DISPATCHES FROM THE WAR OFFICE.

The Latest Army News—Advices from Gen Grant to Sunday Morning—No more Fighting—News from Gen. Sherman to Saturday Evening—His Army Actively Engaged.

(OFFICIAL.)

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, May 15, 1864—10:15 P. M.

To Major-Gen. Dix:

Dispatches from General Grant have been received by this Department down to seven o'clock this morning. There had been no engagement for the last two days.

Dispatches en. SHERMAN, down to eight o'clock last night, state that his forces had been actively engaged during the day with advantage on our side, but no decided result.

Nothing has been heard from Gen. BUTLER's operations since his telegram of last night, heretofore published.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

Dispatches from Gen. Grant to Half-past Six Saturday Morning—Retreat of Lee.

[OFFICIAL.]

WASHINGTON, May 15—9 A. M.

To Maj.-Gen. Dix:

An official dispatch from the battle-field at Spottsylvania, yesterday morning at 6½, states that during the preceding night (Friday) a movement was made by the Fifth and Sixth Corps to our left, and an attack was to have been made at daylight, but no sound of battle had been heard from that quarter. This manœuvre, it is said, if successful, would place our forces in LEE's rear, and compel him to retreat toward Lynchburgh. No cannon, nor any sound of battle was heard yesterday at Belle Plain or Fredericksburgh, which affords ground for inference that LEE had retreated during Friday night, and before the advance of the Fifth and Sixth Corps. Nothing later than 6:30 A. M. of yesterday has been received from the army by this department. All wounded that had reached Belle Plain yesterday evening have arrived here. The surgical report from the headquarters of the army states that the condition of the supplies is satisfactory, and the wounded are doing well. The Medical Director at Belle Plain reports that everything at that point is satisfactory. The surgical arrangements have never been so complete as now. Gen. SHERIDAN's command had reached the left bank of Turkey Island at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and have formed their junction with the forces of Gen. BUTLER.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

SHERIDAN'S GREAT CAVALRY RAID.

[OFFICIAL.]

WASHINGTON, May 14, 1864—11:40 P. M.

Maj.-Gen. Dix:

An official dispatch from Gen. SHERIDAN, dated at Bottom Bridge, via Fortress Monroe, May 13, states that on the 9th instant, he marched around the enemy's right flank, and on the evening of that day reached the North Anna River without opposition.

During that night he destroyed the enemys depot at Beaver Dam, three large trains of cars, and one hundred cars, two fine locomotives, two hundred thousand pounds of bacon and other stores, amounting in all to one million and a half of rebel rations; also the telegraph and railroad track for about ten miles, embracing several culverts; recaptured three hundred and seventy-eight of our men, including two Colonels, one Major, and several other officers.

On the morning of the 10th he resumed operations, crossing the South Anna at Grand Squirrel Bridge, and went into camp about daylight.

On the 11th he captured Ashland Station, destroyed here one locomotive and a train of cars, an engine house, and two or three government buildings, containing a large amount of stores; also destroyed six miles of railroad, embracing six culverts, two trestle bridges, and the telegraph wire.

About 7 A. M. of the 11th he resumed the march on Richmond.

He found the rebel Gen. STUART with his cavalry concentrated at Yellow Tavern, immediately attacked him, and after an obstinate contest gained possession of the Broekel turn-pike, capturing two pieces of artillery, and driving his forces back toward Ashland, and across the North fork of the Chickahominy.

At the same time a party charged down the Breck road, and captured the first line of the enemy's works around Richmond.

During the night he marched the whole of his command between the first and second line of the enemy's works on the bluffs overlooking the line of the Virginia Central Railroad and the Mechanicsville turnpike.

After demonstrating around the works, and finding them very strong, he gave up the intention of assaulting, and determined to recross the Chickahominy at Meadow Bridge. It had been partially destroyed by the enemy, but was repaired in about three hours under a heavy artillery fire from a rebel battery.

Gen. MERRITT made the crossing, attacked the enemy, and drove him off handsomely, the pursuit continuing as far as Gaines' Mills.

The enemy, observing the recrossing of the Chickahominy, came out from his second line of works.

A brigade of infantry and a large number of dismounted cavalry attacked the divisions of Gens. GREGG and WILSON, but after a severe contest were repulsed and driven behind their works.

GREGG's and WILSON's divisions after collecting the wounded recrossed the Chickahominy.

On the afternoon of the 12th the corps encamped at Walnut Grove and Gaines' Mills.

On the morning of the 13th (yesterday) the march was renewed and we encamped at Bottom's Bridge.

The command is in fine spirits.

The loss of horses will not exceed one hundred.

All the wounded were brought off, except about thirty cases of mortal wounds, and those were well cared for in the farm-houses of the country.

The wounded will not exceed two hundred and fifty, and the total losses not over three hundred and fifty.

The Virginia Central Railroad bridges over the Chickahominy and other trestle bridges, one sixty feet in length, one thirty feet, one twenty feet, and the railroad for a long distance south of the Chickahominy were destroyed.

Great praise is given the Division Commanders, Gens. GREGG, WILSON, and MERRITT, and Gens. CUSTER and DAVIS, Cols. GREGG, DIVINE, CHAPMAN, MCINTOSH and GIBBS, Brigade Commanders, and all the officers and men behaved splendidly.

MAY 15—12:30 A. M.

In a dispatch this moment received from Admiral LEE, he reports to the Secretary of the Navy that the Richmond papers of yesterday mentioned the death of Gen. J. E. B. STUART, shot in battle. This, no doubt, happened in the battle with SHERIDAN.

Secretary of War.

The Retreat of Lee and Pursuit by Grant—The News from Sherman—Dalton Evacuated—Sigel's Position.

(OFFICIAL.)

WASHINGTON, Saturday, May 14.

Major-Gen. Dix:

Dispatches from Gen. GRANT, dated yesterday evening, at 6 o'clock, have reached this Department.

The advance of HANCOCK, yesterday, the developed fact that the enemy had fallen back four miles.

There was no engagement yesterday.

We have no accounts of any general officers being killed in the battle of the preceding day.

Col. CARROLL was severely wounded.

A dispatch has just been received from Gen. SHERMAN, dated near Resaca, May 14. It states that by the flank movement on Resaca, JOHNSTON had been forced to evacuate Dalton, and our forces were in his rear and flank. The weather was fine, and the troops in fine order. All working well, and as fast as possible.

No intelligence has been received from Gen. BUTLER.

Guerrillas have broken the telegraph lines between Williamsburgh and Old Jamestown. This is believed to be the reason why no reports have been received from him.

Dispatches from Gen. SIGEL report him to be at Woodstock. The rumor that he had broken the railroad between Lynchburgh and Charlottsville is not true.

Our wounded are coming in from Belle Plain as fast as the transports can bring them.

GRANT's army is well supplied.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

Gen. Butler's Attack on Fort Darling—The Enemy's First Line Carried.

(OFFICIAL.)

WASHINGTON, May 14, 1864—9:50 P. M.

Major-Gen. Dix;

The following telegrams have just reached this department from Gen. BUTLER.

No other reports have been received since my dispatch of this afternoon.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

FIRST DISPATCH.

HALF-WAY HOUSE, May 14, 1864—8 A. M.

To Hon. Edwin M Stanton:

We are still before the base of the enemy's works at Drury's Bluff, Fort Darling.

The enemy are here in force.

Gen. GILLMORE, by a flank movement with a portion of his corps and a brigade of the Eighteenth Corps, assaulted and took the enemy's works on their right. It was gallantly done. Troops behaved finely. We held our lines during the night, and shall move this morning.

BENJ. F. BUTLER,
Major-General Commanding.

SECOND DISPATCH.

HEADQUARTERS, HALF-WAY HOUSE,
May 14, 1864—10 A. M.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

Gen. SMITH carried the enemy's first line on the right this morning, at 8 A. M. Loss, small.

The enemy have retired into three square redoubts, upon which we are now bringing our artillery to bear with effect.

BENJ. F. BUTLER, Maj.-Gen. Commanding.

The Arrival of Prisoners at Belle Plain.

(OFFICIAL.)

WASHINGTON, May 13—12 o'clock, Midnight.

Maj.-Gen. Dix:

A dispatch from the Commissary of Prisoners at Belle Plain, announces the arrival there of over 7,000 prisoners, including 400 officers, with Maj.-Gen. JOHNSON and Brig.-Gen. STUART.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

GEN. MEADE TO THE ARMY.

The Troops Congratulated for the'r Noble Deeds and Heroic Endurance.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, May 14.

Dispatches dated Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, May 13, 12 o'clock, noon, at which time the messenger to the Associated Press left, contain the following:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
May 13, 1864.

SOLDIERS: The moment has arrived when your Commanding-General feels authorized to address you in terms of congratulation.

For eight days and nights, almost without intermission, in rain and sunshine, you have been gallantly fighting a desperate foe, in positions naturally strong, and rendered doubly so by intrenchments.

You have compelled him to abandon his fortifications on the Rapidan, to retire and attempt to stop your onward progress, and now he has abandoned the last intrenched position so tenaciously held, suffering in all a loss of eighteen guns, twenty-two colors, and eight thousand prisoners, including two general officers.

Your heroic deeds, and noble endurance of fatigue and privation, will ever be memorable. Let us return thanks to God for the mercy thus shown us, and ask earnestly for its continuance.

SOLDIERS! Your work is not yet over. The enemy must be pursued, and if possible, overcome. The courage and fortitude you have displayed renders your Commanding General confident that your future efforts will result in success.

While we mourn the loss of many gallant comrades, let us remember that the enemy must have suffered equal if not greater losses.

We shall soon receive reinforcements which he cannot expect.

Let us determine then to continue vigorously the work so well begun, and under God's blessing in a short time the object of our labors will be accomplished.

(Signed,) GEO. G. MEADE,
[Official,] Maj.-Gen. Commanding.
S. WILLIAMS, A. A. G.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON.

The Scene After the Battle of Thursday—The Charge by Gen. Birney's Division—The Enemy Getting into Another Position.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
Friday, May 13.

The rebels fell back early this morning, and skirmishing is now going on, our troops following them up through the woods.

The scene presented to-day, is entirely beyond description. The dead and dying behind and in front of the breastworks are lying in some places in piles three and four deep, many of them wounded in several parts of the body.

The enemy had removed a large number of their dead and wounded during the night, from portions of their line, but there were places which they could not reach, and there they lay as thick as our own.

It was Gen. BIRNEY's division of the Second Corps which charged this position, and lost about 700 men.

Every regiment in the division distinguished itself, and no one bore a more noble part than the Ninety-third New-York Volunteers.

Col. CARROLL's brigade aided this division in the charge, and as usual performed their share of the work with marked gallantry, Col. CARROLL was wounded a second time but still kept on duty.

Some of the caissons are now being brought in, which could not be done before this time.

Many colors have been taken, but the captors still retain them as trophies.

Col. CARROLL's brigade took a number of prisoners and a stand of colors, this morning, from a rebel regiment, which they surprised in a piece of woods.

LATER.

HEADQUARTERS, Friday, May 13—2 P. M,

The enemy are found to have fallen back to a new line, abandoning their works on their right, and apparently getting into position for another contest.

Gen. MEADE issued an address to the troops this morning, a copy of which is forwarded herewith.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, May 14.

The rebel Gen. LONGSTREET is reported to be dead.

Late rebel papers state that LEE is wounded, and is now in Richmond. His army is in full retreat.

Careful investigation fixes the total losses of the Army of the Potomac, in killed, wounded and missing, including prisoners captured by the rebels and stragglers, up to the commencement of the battle of Thursday, at about 20,000, not 30,000, as has been represented in unofficial dispatches.

The Star says: "From the fact that no cannonading was heard, yesterday, from the front, it is believed that LEE is shifting his position; has taken care to put himself out of immediate fighting range, if he has not actually moved off rapidly toward Richmond. The public may expect to hear soon of the occurrence of the next fight, if LEE has not been so weakened as to compel him to seek the cover of the Richmond fortifications, or to retreat rapidly in the direction of Lynchburgh and Stanton, from which points his army has received its supplies ever since GRANT crossed the Rapidan.

THE BATTLE OF THURSDAY.

CASUALTIES.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
Friday, May 13.

The Fifty-seventh New-York State Volunteers—The Late Col. Chapman—Col. Conner, of the Nineteenth Maine—The Rebel Prisoners.

Correspondence of the New-York Times;

FREDERICKSBURGH, Friday, May 13, 1864.

The rebels hold out bravely. They have fallen back not more than four miles, after a week's resolute fighting.

Col. A. B. CHAPMAN, Fifty-seventh New-York, was killed at 5½ o'clock of the afternoon of the 5th inst. Being ordered by Gen. BARLOW to support a line of skirmishers, he advanced with two companies to the front. He had scarce deployed his men when he was struck three times, one bullet passed through his body, just above his heart. Falling off his horse, Capt. BOYD, aid-de-camp, came up to him and asked him if he desired to be carried to the rear. "No," said this brave soldier. "I have received a mortal wound. Let me die there. Don't carry me back." He then took his diary out of his pocket, wrote in it a few words, replaced it, and then turning over, instantly died.

Gen. MILES, hearing the firing, ordered up the remainder of the regiment to the support of the skirmishers. The regment found the Irish Brigade hotly engaged, and these then fell back, out of ammunition. For two hours the Fifty-seventh stood their ground, though vastly outnumbered. Three times they charged, driving back the enemy three hundred yards. A fierce fight took place over the body of their beloved Colonel, and they finally succeeded in carrying it off. At 8½ o'clock Col SMITH, commanding brigade, relieved the Fifty-seventh. On the field he thanked the officers and the men for their gallantry. Yet their honors were dearly won. They went into the field 220 strong, and 109 now report for duty.

By order of Gen. MEADE, this noble remnant were sent to Fredericksburgh to guard the town.

A distinguished record is the record of Col. CHAPMAN. Before the first battle of Bull Run, he left New-York as Sergeant of the Seventh Regiment. On the return of this regiment he organized a company for the Fifty-seventh New-York. At Yorktown, at Fair Oaks, at Gaines Mill, at Malvern Hills, he fought with his regiment. At Harrison's Landing he was promoted to the rank of Major. After Antietam he was made Lieutenant-Colonel. At Fredericksburgh, being then not more than 25 years old, he was made Colonel, and was severely wounded in laying a pontoon bridge in the upper part of the town.

He fought at Gettysburgh, at Bristoe Station, at Mine Run, and in the Wilderness died an honorable death. The sword which the privates of the Fifty-seventh had just procured for him, as a token of their attachment, will be presented by them to his father.

Col. CONNER, Nineteenth Maine, is lying at Fredericksburgh, badly wounded by a rifle-ball through his leg. Two inches of thigh-bone has been extracted. He received his wound while charging with his regiment. This morning, the prisoners we have taken, during the last week, began to pass through the town on the way to Washington. A dirtier or more ragged body of men were never seen. They wore no uniforms, except such as they have taken from us. They seem strong, and to have been well-fed and cared for while in their own army. As they passed, many women of the town came out with plates of biscuit and corn bread, and distributed the food among the hungry prisoners.

GEN. BUTLER'S ARMY.

No Fighting on the 11th or 12th inst.—The Operations of Gen. Kautz—Gen. Sheridan Said to Have Joined Gen. Butler.

FORTRESS MONROE, Friday, May 13.

The latest accounts from Gen. BUTLER state that there was no fighting on the 11th or 12th instant.

All is quiet and has been since the enemy fell back on the 11th instant.

During the 11th, the enemy kept out of sight and did not show themselves in any force through the day.

Yesterday, a rebel battery stationed on the shore of the James River, near Turkey Island, opened fire upon some of our gunboats.

The gunboats commenced shelling the enemy, and he retired, evidently in great haste.

The cavalry force of Gen. KAUTZ arrived back on the 12th inst., with 140 prisoners. They report having destroyed several miles of track on the Norfolk and Petersburgh and Weldon Railroads. They also state that they destroyed all the railroad bridges over Rowanty and Stony Creeks, and on the Nottoway River.

The body of Capt. PHELON, of the gunboat Shoshone, was found yesterday afternoon floating in the James River, above Turkey Bend. He had been shot through the head.

At the time of the destruction of the Shoshone, Capt. PHELON was seen to swim ashore toward rebeldom, and it is evident that he was subsequently shot and thrown into the river.

It is reported here that Gen. SHERIDAN has made a detour in the rear of Gen. LEE's army, and joined Gen. BUTLER. This needs confirmation.

Large supplies of commissary and medical stores are being forwarded up the James River, and the Sanitary and Christian Commissions are well represented. The friends of the soldiers can rest assured that all is being done that can be for the comfort of the men.

We expect to hear of fighting from Gen. BUTLER's army by the next dispatch-boat.

The troops were under arms, to move early yesterday morning.

Later and Important—Gen. Butler's Advance on Fort Darling—Capture of a Rebel Courier.

BERMUDA HUNDREDS, Friday, May 13—8 P. M.
VIA FORTRESS MONROE, Saturday, May 14.

At an early hour this morning Gen. BUTLER renewed his advance toward Fort Darling. He reached Kingsland Creek at 12 o'clock, noon, and formed his line of battle on the southeast side of the creek, with the right on the James River.

The monitors and gunboats are near the mouth of the creek, within three miles of Drury's Bluff.

THREE O'CLOCK, P.M.—Gen. BUTLER is superintending the concentration of his batteries.

Yesterday afternoon his advance pickets captured a rebel courier with a dispatch from BEAUREGARD to the officer in command at Drury's Bluff.

The despatch said; "Hold your position until I reinforce you."

FOUR O'CLOCK, P. M.—In two hours the rebel reinforcements came.

Gen. BUTLER had sent a force to turn the pike, and drove the rebels back. Our loss was slight.

Gen. AMES is in position to keep BEAUREGARD in Petersburgh.

The rebels at Drury's Bluff are evidently not disposed to fight without reinforcements.

The Exchange of Prisoners Resumed.

FORTRESS MONROE, Saturday, May 14—P. M.

The exchange of prisoners has been resumed: Aiken's Landing is agreed upon by Commissioners OULD and MULFORD as the place of exchange.

Nineteen rebel prisoners have been brought from Bermuda Hundreds. They were captured on the 12th and 13th inst., by the Thirteenth New-Hampshire Regiment.

There is nothing later from the front to-day.

Arrival of Wounded—Return of Col. Phillips, of Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Sunday, May 15.

Eight hundred wounded have arrived here from Washington, most of whom are slightly wounded, and have been distributed among the various hospitals here.

Col. CHARLES E. PHILLIPS, of the Seventh Maryland Volunteers, who was wounded and taken prisoner last Sunday at the Battle of Spottsylvania, was among the five hundred men recaptured by Gen. SHERIDAN at Beaver Dam, on Monday last, and has arrived at Fortress Monroe.

The Funeral of Gen. Sedgwick.

WEST CORNWALL, Conn., Sunday, May 15.

The funeral of Maj.-Gen. SEDGWICK was largely attended, to-day, at his residence. There were a large number of distinguished persons present, among whom were three of the General's Staff, Ex-Gov. Holley, Major Pratt, Hon. O. S. Seymour, David Leavitt, John Boyd, Messrs. Carpenter, Chapman, Mason, Peck, Geer and Seymour of the House, and Hotchkiss and Hodge of the Senate, and Mr. Harrison, Clerk of the Senate. Col. L. W. WESSELS, Provost-Marshal of the Fourth District, was Master of the Ceremonies. There were 600 wagons and probably 3,000 people. All seemed deeply impressed with the solemnity of the occasion. Rev. CHARLES WETHERLY preached the sermon, which was a masterly effort. The text was "How the mighty are fallen in battle."

Gen. Sherman's Regulations.

NASHVILLE, Sunday, May 14.

By order of Gen. SHERMAN, no person not connected with the military will be allowed to proceed south of Nashville.

Whereabouts of Gen. Sigel.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch, May 13.

We reported yesterday the averment of a gentleman that he had seen Gen. SIGEL at Cumberland last Saturday, and that he was not thinking of a movement. We are glad to say that this assertion is totally unfounded. We have been visited to-day by a gentleman connected with Gen. SIGEL's army, who contradicts our informant's statement in toto. This person was unusually cautious in giving his information, but we were enabled to glean from him that SIGEL had not been in Cumberland for over two weeks; that he left Martinsburgh Tuesday, two weeks ago, and went as far as Winchester, where his command was encamped until last Monday, when tents were struck and SIGEL went "upon the war path." We know not the direction then traveled, but conclude it was up the valley, toward Staunton. We fear that but little help in the way of coöperation with GRANT must be expected from SIGEL. His force was not near so large as generally supposed—not more than a third, and we presume his business will be more to provide against a rebel countermove by way of Shenandoah, rather than any offensive operation. Should he find the coast clear, however, he may surprise all one of these fine days, by dropping into Charlottesville or Gordonsville, or may be into Lynchburgh. He must be now somewhere in the neighborhood of Staunton.

IMPORTANT REBEL REPORTS.

Averill's Operations in Southwestern Virginia.

The Virginia and Tennessee Railroad Destroyed West of Lynchburgh.

Rebel Losses in the Late Battles.

BERMUDA HUNDRED, Friday, May 13,
VIA FORTRESS MONROE, Saturday, May 14.

The Petersburgh Register of the 12th, has the following highly important intelligence:

"The Yankee raiders have burned the bridge on New-River, on the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, and destroyed the Dublin depot, with all the supplies, &c.—Averill's work. The Central Railroad is destroyed by the enemy, at Beaver Dam, in Hanover County."

*[The bridge over New River thus destroyed is a very long and important one ninety-four miles west of Lynchburgh. Dublin depot is an important station eight miles further west, in Pulaski County, and is the point where the rebels were gathering large quantities of supplies from the fertile counties of Pulaski, Wythe, Smyth, Grayson, Carroll and Floyd. This blow likewise prevents the rebel forces still left in Northeastern Tennessee, under BUCKNER, from reinforcing LEE.—ED. TIMES.]

The Rebel Losses 30,000—Large Number of Officers Killed and Wounded.

BERMUDA HUNDRED, Friday, May 13—8 P. M.,
VIA FORTRESS MONROE, Saturday, May 14.

A rebel prisoner captured last evening says that Gen. LEE admits a loss of 30,000.

The Petersburgh Register, of May 12, says:

"Gen. WALKER, of Virginia, was wounded at Spottsylvania. He lost a foot. The enemy certainly are are fighting with desperation and nerve. Gen. HAYES, of Louisiana, was wounded yesterday. Gen. L. A. STAFFORD, of Louisiana, died yesterday in Richmond. Gen. Jenkins, of South Carolina, is killed; Gen. J. M. Jones, killed; Gen. Pegram, seriously wounded; Gen. Benning, seriously wounded; Col. Nances, of South Carolina, killed; Col. Gaillard, of South Carolina, wounded; Col. Kennedy, wounded; Col. Herbert, of Alabama, wounded; Col. Honlove, wounded; Col. Jones, of North Carolina, wounded; Col. Grice, killed; Col. Sheffield, of Georgia, wounded; Col. Whitehead, of Georgia, wounded; Col. Board, of Virginia, wounded; Col. Winston, of North Carolina, wounded; Col. Lane, of North Carolina, wounded; Col. Sanders, of North Carolina, wounded; Col. Falum, of Georgia, wounded; Col. Carter, of Georgia, killed; Col. Miller, of South Carolina, wounded; Col. G. H. Forney, of Alabama, killed; Col. Avery, of North Carolina, killed; Col. Davidson, of North Carolina, captured; Col. W. W. Randolph, killed; Col. Finney, of Mississippi, killed."

The Register gives the names of eighty-five Captains and Lieutenants killed and wounded.

Mr. BRITTON, who exploded the torpedo in the James River, was instantly killed by the enemy Major A. W. STARK's Artillery, on Saturday sunk the gunboat Shoshone, in the James River.

BUSHROD JOHNSON has a command in Petersburgh.

The Petersburgh Register of the 13th instant gives an additional list of seventy-two killed and wounded officers, and among them Col. T. B. Lamar, of Florida, wounded; Col. W. T. Hartsfield, of Georgia, wounded; Col. W. Cholt, of Georgia, wounded; Col. W. H. Wilds, of Louisiana, wounded; Col. W. C. Hodge, of Georgia, wounded; Col. E. D. Willet, of Louisiana, wounded.

The Loss of General Officers.

The loss of able General officers in each army is oftentimes one of the most serious they can sustain. Though we have only very limited information regarding the rebel losses in the late battles, we can yet compare the losses of the two armies in this respect, as follows:

THE NATIONAL ARMY.

Killed—Maj.-Gen. Sedgwick, of Connecticut; Brig.-Gens. Wadsworth and Rice, of New-York; Stevenson, of Mass.; Hayes, of Pennsylvania—Total, 5.

Wounded—Brig.-Gen. Torbert, of New-Jersey; Robinson, of the Regular Army; Getty, of the same; Webb, of New-York; Baxter, of Pennsylvania; W. H. Morris, of New-York—Total, 6.

Captured—Brig.-Gens. Shaler, Seymour and Crawford—(reported)—3. Total number disabled, 14.

Gens. Bartlett and Owens were also very slightly wounded, but as they are still at the head of their brigades in the field, they cannot be considered hors du combat.

THE REBEL ARMY.

Killed—Major-Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, of Virginia; Brig.-Gens. Jenkins, of South Carolina; J. M. Jones, of Virginia; L. A. Stafford, of Louisiana—4.

Wounded—Lieut.-Gen. Longstreet, of Virginia Major-Gen. Heth, of Virginia; Major-Gen. Pickett, of Virginia; Brig.-Gens. Pegram, of Virginia; Walker, of Virginia; Hays, of Louisiana; Benning, of Georgia—7.

Captured—Major-Gen. Johnson, Brig.-Gen. George H. Stuart, of Maryland—2. Total number of rebel general officers disabled—14.

In addition to the above there are reports of the wounding of Gen. LEE and Lieut.-Gen. A. P. HILL, but these are not confirmed. Rebel reports of the casualties of Thursday's battle have not yet been received.

The Pennsylvania Militia.

PITTSBURGH, Sunday, May 15.

A battalion of artillery has been offered to the War Department from this city for one hundred days. The Department has accepted it.

FIRE.—About 9 o'clock on Saturday night a fire broke out in the four-story brick building, Nos. 68 and 70 Water-street, formerly known as BENSON's distillery, but now occupied by Mr. J. E. L. LINSTADT as a piano-forte manufactory. The fire is supposed to have originated in the drying-room on the first floor, and extended thence through the entire building. The Fire Department was promptly on hand, and succeeded in suppressing the flames, but not before everything inside had been either destroyed or greatly damaged. One finished piano, near the door and ready for transportation, was saved; but sixty more, in various stages of completion, were destroyed. The loss on stock is about $15,000, upon which there is an insurance of $10,000 in several New-York and Brooklyn offices. The workmen lost their tools, amounting to several hundred dollars in value. The adjoining cracker bakery of HANKS & Co. was damaged by water to the extent of about $300. In proceeding to the fire two engines were damaged by running against some obstacles, and one tender was completely wrecked. A railroad car on Main-street was run into and damaged. No person was injured.

The Anniversary of the Christian Commission was held last evening at the Academy of Music. Eloquent addresses were made by Dr. KIRK, of Boston, Dr. ADAMS, of New-York, and Mr. G. H. STUART, of Philadelphia. A collection was taken up, which amounted to nearly $30,000.

HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—A change in the Time-Table takes place to-day. Express trains leave Chambers-street at 7 and 10 A. M., and 4 and 6 P. M. The trains on this road are all running with great regularity and promptness.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Recruiting.

The business of recruiting in this County progresses slowly, the number of men raised now averaging only about fifty per day. The whole number to be raised at this date, however, to complete the quota is less than 1,600, and would be less than 100, if Government would credit the County with the two and one year naval men, the same as three year army recruits, as it was understood they would do.

The paucity in the number of recruits now raised is partially accounted for by the fact that parties are engaged in running men out of the City to other localities where higher bounties are paid. This is a penal offence under the Act of the Legislature of 1864, and the Police authorities especially should give the matter their attention. For the benefit of all concerned we publish this law in full:

Chapter 2.

AN ACT

To amend section three of chapter one hundred and eighty-four of the laws of 1863, entitled "An Act to promote the reënlistment of volunteers now in the service of the United States, and the enlistment of persons into regiments and corps now in said service and hereafter to be organized," passed April 17, 1863.

Passed January 29, 1864; three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three of chapter 184 of the Laws of 1863 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 3. It shall not be lawful for any person in any manner to persuade or induce any resident of this State to enter into the military or naval forces raised or to be raised in any other State for the military or naval service of the United States, or for the military or naval service of any other State.

It shall not be lawful for any person to induce or persuade, or attempt to persuade or induce any resident of this State to depart from this State for the purpose of entering into the military or naval forces raised or to be raised in any other State for the military or naval service of the United States, or for the military or naval service of any other State; whoever shall offend against the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars; one-half of said fine to be paid upon conviction of the offenders to the party on whose information the arrest and conviction was made; or imprisonment, or both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2. The said section three, except as above amended, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

STATE OF NEW-YORK.
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE STATE.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole of said original law.

Given under my hand and seal of office, at the City [L. S.] of Albany this 13th day of May, 1864.

ERASTUS CLARK, Deputy Secretary of State.

TROTTING AT THE UNION COURSE.

A sort of "mixed train" affair came off at this track on Saturday for a sweepstakes of $200, mile heats, Shackleback, a pacer, going in harness, Napoleon the Fourth, a trotter, to wagon, and JAMES MCGLAUGHLIN's brown stallion also going to wagon. The interest was entirely confined to the friends of the three contestants, and the result was the easily accomplished victory of Shackleback, who won in two straight heats. Lady Gaffney was to have gone to wagon with the others but was drawn.

SUMMARY.

UNION COURSE, LONG ISLAND—SATURDAY, May 14.—Sweepstakes of $200—mile heats.

John McGoldrich named s. g. Stackleback, (pacer in harness) ... 1 1
H. Bolter named Napoleon the Fourth, (trotter to wagon) ... 2 2
James McGlaughlin named Brown Stallion, (trotter to wagon) ... 3 3
Owner names g. m. Lady Gaffney, (trotter to wagon) ... dr.

Time—3:03—3:01.

There will be a trot at this track to-morrow, which promises to result in a keen contest. It is a match for $2,000, between Lady Ella and Jimmy Lynch, play or pay, HIRAM WOODRUFF driving her ladyship, and JAMES MCMANN Jimmy Lynch.

There will also be a fine trot at the Fashion on Wednesday.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THREE MEN FOUND DROWNED.—Coroner WILDEY yesterday held an inquest on the body of JAS. WELCH, a native of Ireland, aged 40 years, who was found drowned at the foot of Beach-street, North River. He had been in the water about three weeks.... The same Coroner held an inquest at the foot of Whitehall-street on the body of DANIEL BRESLEHAN, a native of Ireland, aged 35 years, who was found floating in the water. Deceased had been missing about two weeks. He left a wife and five children, residing in Brooklyn. A verdict of death from drowning was rendered ... An unknown man was found in the water at Pier No. 14 East River yesterday. Deceased was about 25 years of age, five feet five inches in height, and very slim built. He had dark hair, was dressed in black coat and vest, blue check shirt and blue cloth pants, one shoe and sock. The body had been in the water about three weeks. Coroner WILDEY held an inquest on the body, and a verdict of death from drowning was rendered.

SUICIDE BY STRYCHNINE.—MARY E. RIEALL, aged 38 years, and proprietor of a boarding-house at No. 375 Washington-street, committed suicide on Friday night last by taking a large quantity of strychnine. Deceased had been in a very depressed state of mind for several months past. Last February she lost a son by being accidentally crushed between two carts, and this, taken in connection with some serious reverses in business matters, induced her to repeatedly threaten self-destruction. On Friday evening she purchased some strychnine at the drug-store of Dr. EAGER, No. 120 Hudson-street, on the pretence that she wished to kill a cat with it. She went home, took the poison, and died in a short time after. Coroner WILDEY held an inquest on the body yesterday, when a verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts above stated.

MONDAY, May 16—A. M.

The great battle-week which closed on Saturday was marked by great excitement in all business circles to hear and read the news. There was less disposition to speculate upon its influence on the Stock and Produce Exchanges than might have been expected. For a few days, indeed, the interest in both these quarters was absorbed by the bloody and momentous nature of the conflict in Virginia. The Import and Export movements were fairly active. The Customs Duties were light, as a good portion of the imports is bonded to await the reconstruction of the Tariff. The chief demand for Gold was for export and to free short contracts in the Gold-room which were largely multiplied on the first battles across the Rapidan at from 178 down to 168 per cent. The price finally left off about the same as on Saturday week. The market for Money was quiet and the offerings liberal at about 6 per cent. at call to the Brokers.

The following important Circular has been issued in reference to the Interest bearing Legal Tenders, the first Coupon on which falls due 1st June:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 9, 1864.

SIR: On the 1st of June next, the first semi-annual coupons of the five ℘ cent. two-year treasury notes become due and payable.

With a view to the convenience of the public, the National Banks designated as depositaries are authorized to detach the coupons, as required by the regulations, and to redeem them at maturity. The law provides no compensation for this service. The Secretary, however, relies upon the readiness of those connected with the Department, to extend this facility to the public, and thus contribute to the credit of the Government.

For your guidance in the premises, you will please observe the following rule:

No coupon is to be redeemed or recognized unless detached from the note to which it belongs, by you, or in your presence, or in the presence of one of your officers, and the interest is to be computed from the date stamped upon the coupon, and not from the date of the note. Very respectfully,

S. P. CHASE, Secretary of the Treasury.

To S. C. Thompson, Esq., President First National Bank, No. 4 Wall-st., New-York:

Parties holding ten or more of these notes will consult their own convenience by making a schedule, giving the denomination of the note, the number of the coupon, and the amount of interest due on the first of June—interest to be computed according to PARON's tables, at 365 days to the year—and leaving the notes, with the coupons on, some days before the first of June, that the coupons may be detached and a check for the interest handed back with the notes.

In the meantime this Bank is prepared to take these notes at par, and interest up to the day of subscribing for the ten-forty loan, and after the first of June they will be received for their face on such subscriptions.

JAMES CURPHEY, Cashier,
First National Bank, No. 4 Wall-st., New-York.

The painful suspense of the past few days, in regard to the battles in Virginia, was happily relieved by the news of Saturday, and the Stock Exchange, as well as other departments of business, felt the influence of the improved confidence. The transactions were not much heavier in amount than on Thursday or Friday, but speculation moved with rather more spirit. The Government Stocks went up ½@¾ ℘ cent., and the turn in the Railways was even more decided—say 1 to 3 ℘ cent. higher than the day before. Only one session of the Stock Board was held, as usual on Saturday, and the business on the Street closed at an early hour, at the following figures compared with Friday afternoon. The general market left off steady. The price of Gold about the same as Friday morning, but firmer than at the close of Friday's transactions. The Customs demand for Gold during the week has been very moderate, but the Export demand quite large. The shipments of the day were $1,119,000, making for the whole week $2,452,668. The Evening Exchange was firm.

1864	13,555,674	36,667,381

The Union Bank of London have resolved to increase their nominal capital from £3,000,000 to £4,000,000, by an issue of 20,000 new shares of £50 each, rateably to the present proprietors at £15 premium. The amount paid upon the existing £50 shares of the bank is £13, and it is contemplated at an early day to increase this sum to £15 by an appropriation of profits. The closing price of the shares this afternoon was about 60.

With reference to American Securities, the following is from the circular of Mr. F. F. SATTERTHWAITE: "Since our last, the market in London for American Securities has been much depressed, and even at reduced quotations buyers hesitate to take the stock offered. The decline in Illinois and Erie shares has been fully 5 ℘ cent. [On New-York panic news.] Railroad Bonds, where the principal and interest is not payable in this country, have declined about 3 ℘ cent. United States 5.20 bonds gave way to 53, ex-coup., but have rallied, on some buying for Dutch account, to 56½."

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, May 14, 1864—6 P. M.

The receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last have been 26 bbls. Ashes, 13,469 bbls. Flour, 931 bbls. Corn Meal, 70,156 bushels Wheat, 392 bushels Corn, 325 bushels Rye, 4,860 bushels Barley, 30,198 bushels Oats, 9,136 bushels Malt, 4,477 pkgs. Provisions, and 911 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Continue quiet at $9 50 for Pots and $11 75 (nominally) for Pearls, ℘ 100 ℔s. Sales, 45 bbls. Stock, 493 bbls.

COAL—Is in moderate demand at full prices, including Anthracite at from $8 50@$9 ℘ ton of 2,000 ℔s. The Philadelphia Inquirer says: "The activity recorded for some time past still continues, and free cargo sales are reported at Richmond at $8@$8 25 ℘ ton. Some considerable contracts have recently been made for Gas Coals on terms not made public. The demand for Coal, said to be for Government use, has been active, and most of the miners, knowing the pressing demand for Government use, have advanced their figures from $3 75@$4 to $6 ℘ ton at the mines. Truly patriotic conduct!"

COFFEE—Has been in limited request and heavy. We quote Java at 50c.@52c.; Laguayra and Maracaibo at 42c.@44c.; Rio at 43c.@46c.; St. Domingo at 37½c.@38c. ℘ ℔.

COTTON—Has been quiet to-day at drooping prices. Strict Middlings at 84c.@85. Sales and resales since our last, 900 bales.

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour has been inactive, though prices have been reduced 5c.@10c. per bbl. Sales since our last, 8,200 bbls., including Superfine State and Western at $6 50@$6 80; poor to choice Extra State at $6 85@$7 30, chiefly at $7@$7 15; round-hoop Extra Ohio, inferior to good shipping brands, at $7 20@$7 40 ℘ bbl.

Superfine State and Western	$6 50@$6 80

Southern Flour continues heavy and drooping; sales since our last, 900 bbls., at $7 20@$7 70 for poor to good, $7 75@$10 25 for fancy to choice extra brands, ℘ bbl. Canadian flour is in limited demand and heavy; sales, 450 bbls. Extra, $6 85@$8 25 ℘ bbl. Rye Flour is quiet at $5 25@$6 75 ℘ bbl. Corn meal is in moderate demand, at $6 26@$6 30 for Jersey, and $6 65 for Brandywine, ℘ bbl. Total sales, 150 bbls.

GRAIN—Wheat has been in less request, to-day, and prices have declined about 2c. ℘ bushel. Sales have been made since our last of 38,000 bushels, including Amber Western at $1 65; Red Western at $1 60@$1 63; Amber Iowa, Western and Green Bay at $1 55@$1 57; Milwaukee Club, $1 52@$1 55; Chicago Spring at $1 50@$1 55, the latter an extreme; Red State at $1 59@$1 63, per bushel. Corn is in fair demand at higher prices; sales have been reported since our last of 29,000 bushels, at $1 43@$1 43½ for Western, in store and afloat, ℘ bushel. Rye is in slack request at $1 48@$1 50, ℘ bushel. Oats have been in less request, owing to the high prices asked; We quote Canada at 88c.@89c.; Western at 89c.@91c.; State at 89c.@90½c., cash, ℘ bushel. Barley continues quiet. Barley Malt is in demand at $1 55@$1 60.

HAY—North River continues in moderate supply and demand, at $1 45@$1 75 ℘ 100 ℔s.

HOPS—Have been quiet to-day, at 18c.@30c. for poor to choice, chiefly within the range, ℘ ℔.

HIDES.—Receipts, this week have been liberal, comprising 65,343; sales, light, not exceeding 7,960, and including, according to WEIZEL & WEIDEMEYER, only 2,000 Buenos Ayres, 20@22 ℔s., on private terms; 2,000 Rio Grande, 20 ℔s., do.; 1,500 Wet Salted California, 45 ℔s., do.; 960 Wet Salted Para, 45 ℔s., 16c., cash, usual selection; 1,500 Army Slaughter, 70 ℔s., on private terms. Stock in importers' and speculators' hands: 412,100 Dry Hides, 5,700 Wet Salted do., and 200 bales East India Hides. The stock consists of 226,700 Buenos Ayres, Montevideo, &c.; 67,500 Rio Grande, 36,000 California, &c.; 22,500 Orinoco, 9,000 Porto Cabello, &c.; 13,000 Aspinwall and San Juan, 2,000 Vera Cruz and Mexican, 2,000 Tampico and Matamoras, 3,300 Savanilla, &c.; 7,600 Maranham and Para, 7,000 Bahia and Pernambuco, 1,000 West Indies, &c.; 1,500 East Indies, &c.; 13,000 African Kips, 3,000 Wet Salted California, 2,700 Wet Salted Rio Grande, 200 bales Calcutta Cow and Buffalo.

LEATHER—The week's business Messrs. H. D. HULL & Co. notice thus: "During the early part of the week the demand for Hemlock Sole was very active, and large sales could have been made at full prices had the supply been sufficient. Toward the close, however, there is hardly so much inquiry, but enough to absorb the fresh receipts, and the market closes nearly bare of stock. Prices are without quotable change, but rule very firm, and sales of choice tannage, in small parcels, continue to be made at a slight advance on our outside figures. Fresh Leather from the tanneries comes forward very sparingly for the season, and will probably continue to do so for some time to come. In the market for Oak Sole and Rough, we have no change to report. The demand is fair at full prices with only a moderate supply." Week's receipts of Sole about 43,000 sides.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been depressed to-day. The demand has been mainly for future delivery. Sales since our last, 7,800 bbls., at $27 75@28, chiefly $27 75 for New Mess; and $28 50@$28 75 for June delivery; $26 25@$26 50 for Old Mess; $27 25@$27 50 for Western and City Prime Mess; $27 25@$27 50 for Thin Mess, and $23@$24 25 for Old and New Prime ℘ bbl. Cut Meats are dull and heavy at 14c.@15½c. for Hams, and 11½c.@12c. for Shoulders ℘ ℔. Bacon has been inactive at 13c.@15c., according to quality, ℘ ℔.; sales since our last 70 boxes. Lard is heavy and drooping; sales since our last 850 tierces and bbls., for immediate and future delivery, at 12¾c.@14c., the latter an extreme, and 200 kegs at 16½c. ℘ ℔. Beef rules quiet at uniform rates; sales 250 bbls. at $19@$20 for extra Mess; $15@$18 for Prime Mess ℘ bbl.; Prime Mess, $27@$29; India Mess, $29@$33 ℘ tierce; Beef Hams, $29 50. Butter is in demand at 27c.@35c. for poor to very choice State; 24c.@34c. for Western ℘ ℔. Cheese is in moderate request at 14c.@18c. ℘ ℔.

SKINS—Goat have been quiet during the week, the supply of desirable stock being very meagre. There is a fair inquiry from manufacturers for Mexican Skins at full rates, but the absence of stock prevents sales. We hear of no transactions of importance. For Deer there is a moderate inquiry from manufacturers at low prices, and a few small sales have been effected at steady rates.

SUGAR—The demand has been limited, and prices have been less buoyant. Sales since our last, 235 hhds., including New-Orleans, at 17½c., Cuba at 16½c.@17½c., ℘ ℔. Refined Sugars continue quiet at 17½c.@24c. ℘ ℔.

TALLOW—Sales, since our last, 350,000 ℔s., at at 13c.@13½c., chiefly 13½c.@13½c., and 66 tcs. Grease at 12½c. ℘ ℔.

WHISKY—Has been in more demand at rising prices. Sales since our last, 3,300 bbls., in lots, including State, at $1 23@$1 24, and Western at $1 24@$1 26, closing at $1 26.

WOOL—The market has been very quiet during the past week, all parties having been reluctant to operate freely, pending the issue of the campaign in Virginia and Georgia. The principal holders have not been eager to sell, and have been very firm in their views, but the few sales effected were at prices somewhat more favorable to buyers than those recently current. The week's sales include 125,000 ℔s. Domestic Fleece at 75c.@83c.; 200 bales do Pulled at 74c.@83c., with small lots of very superior as high as 85c.@88c.; 370 bales California, at 45c.@52½c., the latter an extreme; a small lot of English Fleece, at 45c.; 200 bales Cape, at 44c.@50c.; 5,000 ℔s. Scowered do., at $1 20; 150 bales Crimean, at 40c.; 14,000 ℔s. Smyrna, unwashed, at 32½c.; 150 bales Donskoi, on private terms; 40 bales Rosario, at about 22c.; 70 bales Buenos Ayres, and sundry small lots of other foreign, on private terms. Also, by auction, 9 bales Mestizo, at 30c.; 112 bales damaged Cape, at 27c.@43c.; 150 bales greased African, at 15c.@37c. ℘ ℔. ....In Boston, According to the Commercial Bulletin, sales comprised 450,000 ℔s. Domestics at about the previous range of 78c.@87½c. for fleece, and 75c.@90c. for super and extra pulled; 800 bales foreign of all descriptions, including 300 bales Cape, at 45c.@50c., 350 bales Mestiza at 34c.@42c. Those large manufacturing establishments which have lately bought considerably ahead of their immediate wants, are not just now operating to any great extent in view of the impending crisis; but others continue their regular purchases without diminution, and are eager to secure desirable lots of staple at full previous rates. The stocks of all grades domestic wool, and especially the finer, pure-blooded descriptions, are now reduced so low that holders do not care to press sales under any circumstances. Even under the existing tariff rates, as lately augmented, they have a pretty clear field, and can dictate their own terms, at least during the balance of the season, which bids fair to close upon the barest market ever known in this region. It is evident from the current rate of consumption and the demand for Fall goods, that everything in the shape of merchantable Wool will be used up close before the new clip is available; and in view of this fact, and the comparative high price of other commodities, it would require a very decisive Federal success in the field and a heavy fall in gold to materially bring down the market rates of this material. An auction sale of Mediterranean Wool (1,200 bales) is announced for next Wednesday in Boston. ....In Philadelphia, during the past week, sales were made of 120,000 ℔s. Domestic Fleece at 73c.@87c., and 260,000 ℔s. Foreign, on private terms.

FREIGHTS—Have been less active and rates less buoyant to-day, with 600 vessels of all classes in port. For Liverpool, the engagements included 14,000 bushels Wheat at 6d.; 40 boxes Bacon at 15s.; 800 salted Hides at 14s.; 120 bales Hair at 20s.; also, by steamer, 200 bales Cotton at ½d., and 250 boxes Bacon at 27s. 6d. For Glasgow, 50 tcs. Beef at 4s. 6d. For Cork and orders, two foreign barks, with Wheat, at 6s. 6d.@6s. 9d. For Havre, 250 tcs. Lard at 50 francs. For Marseilles, 150 tcs. Lard at 55 francs. For Antwerp, 250 tcs. Lard at 20s.@22s. 6d.; 51 hhds. Tallow at 22s. 6d. For Liverpool, two Italian brigs from Philadelphia, with Petroleum at 6s.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.
A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.
THE DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE) STEEL SPRING.
J. I. & J. O. WEST, NO. 97 CHAMBERS-ST., NEW-YORK,
Are the owners of the patent and exclusive manufacturers of this,
J. W. BRADLEY'S
PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRTS.
This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz.: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place from the difficulty of contracting them to occupying a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress. A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this City and throughout the different States.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

In six distinct bulletins, admirable for their brevity and distinctness, the Secretary of War sums up the whole of the news from the armies East and West, which had reached the Department up to Sunday morning. The dispatches from Gen. Grant come up to Saturday morning at 6¼ o'clock. During that day the advance of Hancock developed the fact that the rebel army had fallen back four miles. There was no engagement during Friday, and the department has no intelligence of any general officer having been killed in the terrible engagement of Thursday. During Friday night an important manœuvre was made in sending the Fifth and Sixth Corps to our left, and an attack was to have been made at daylight, but no sound of battle was heard during Saturday at either Belle Plain or Fredericksburgh, and it is therefore supposed that Lee had retreated still further. The movement and attack, had they been successful, would have placed our army in Lee's rear, and compelled his retreat upon Lynchburgh instead of Richmond. Some definite idea of the losses inflicted on the rebels may be gathered from the additional fact, stated in Mr. Stanton's first dispatch, that over 7,000 prisoners, including 400 officers, with Maj.-Gen. Johnson and Brig.-Gen. Stuart, had arrived at Belle Plain.

Sheridan has done his work in the most thorough manner. Getting in the rebel rear without difficulty, he seems to have done as he pleased, despite the whole rebel cavalry force. He destroyed both railroads for miles; burned four bridges from 20 to 200 feet long; burned several depots; captured and destroyed supplies to the amount of one and a half million rations; entered the fortifications of Richmond; on coming out met Stuart's whole force, massed to fight him. After a brief but severe engagement the rebels were routed, and our forces pursued their way leisurely toward Bottom's Bridge, and have since reported to Gen. Butler at Turkey Bend on James River. The Richmond papers of the 13th announce the death of Stuart, the rebel cavalry leader, from wounds received in battle.

The news that Gen. Thomas has occupied Dalton is confirmed, and we have the further intelligence via Cincinnati, that our forces have captured about five thousand prisoners and ten or twelve pieces of artillery. The official report from Gen. Sherman, transmitted through the War Department, is clear and distinct. It is dated near Resaca, May 14, and it states that by a flank movement on Resaca, Johnston had been obliged to evacuate Dalton, and our forces were in his rear and front. The weather was fine, and the troops in admirable order.

Advices from Gen. Butler, by way of Fortress Monroe, to 13th inst., stated that there had been no fighting since the 11th inst. But later and official dispatches from Gen. Butler state that he is still in front of the enemy's works at Drury's Bluff, Fort Darling, and that the enemy are there in force. Gen. Gillmore, by a brilliant flank movement, assaulted and took the enemy's works on their right. The enemy have retired into their square redoubts, upon which Gen. Butler is bringing his artillery to bear

The news from Gen. Sherman is favorable and encouraging up to Saturday evening. His army had been fighting all day, with considerable advantage, but no decided result. The position at Dalton, out of which Johnston had been flanked, was very formidable. Kilpatrick had cut the railroad below Resaca.

Gen. Canby and Staff passed through Memphis on Thursday, en route for Red River. On the 5th inst. Porter was at Alexandria. A large force was engaged in damming the river, so as to give sufficient depth of water at the Falls for the gunboats to pass over.

The rumor which has been current some time, that Gen. Sigel had broken the railroad between Lynchburgh and Charlottesville, is pronounced by Mr. Secretary Stanton to be untrue. Gen. Sigel was at Woodstock at last accounts.

GENERAL NEWS.

The price of Gold Saturday was about the same as on Friday, but firmer than the closing transactions of that day. The Stock Exchange showed improved confidence, and though the transactions were not much heavier than on Thursday or Friday, the speculation moved with more spirit. Government Stocks went up ½@¾ ℘ cent. The Customs demand for Gold during the week has been very moderate.

The President and the War.

It was quite fashionable two or three weeks ago for the Copperhead press to sneer at the idea that President Lincoln would permit any decisive fighting to be done until the Presidential nomination had been made. His chances, they assumed, depended on the prolongation of the war; and although scarcely willing to impute openly to him the infamously selfish design of sacrificing the country to his personal ambition, they were not ashamed to imply that he was governed by such a motive.

The recent campaign in Virginia has very effectually silenced that calumny; for one of its most conspicuous features has been the zealous coöperation of every department of the Government and every branch of the public service, in the great and complicated movment by which it has been marked. The plan of the campaign and the supervision of its details undoubtedly belong to Gen. Grant; but he has had, at every stage of its execution, the zealous, vigorous and effective support of the supreme authorities at Washington. President Lincoln has done everything in his power to insure success; and Secretary Stanton has, in the same manner, devoted all the energy and impulsive enthusiasm of his nature to the prompt supply of everything essential to the perfect execution of the plans and purposes of the Lieutenant-General. Nothing in the history of the war is more remarkable than the perfect accuracy and harmony with which the gigantic machinery of this movement has been worked. It was by far the most complicated plan of campaign which has been attempted; yet every man at every point seems to have "come to time," and to have done, thoroughly, at the date appointed, the precise task to which he was assigned. Gen. Butler's movement to check Beauregard,—Gen. Kautz's cavalry expedition to cut the road between Richmond and North Carolina, Gen. Sheridan's dash upon Lee's communication with the rebel Capital, Gen. Sherman's demonstration upon Joe Johnston's army, to say nothing of the minor movements of this vast combination, were all performed with promptitude, vigor and success.

With equal energy and promptness the Government has been sending forward supplies and reinforcements. The moment it was seen that Lee was repulsed, and that Washington was no longer in danger, the troops collected and held there in reserve were pushed forward to repair the losses of the heroic Army under Meade, and by this time the Army of the Potomac must have at least as many effective men as it had when the campaign opened. This fact of itself is decisive of the result. Lee cannot be reinforced. Johnston's Army cannot come to him for Sherman not only holds it fast, but threatens it with destruction. Beauregard cannot aid him, for Butler holds him in check, and even if both were free, the destruction of their railroad lines would so retard their progress that they could not reach Lee in season to arrest the coming catastrophe.

The country may rely, with unfaltering trust, upon the supreme devotion of the President to the defence of the Government and the suppression of the rebellion. He has never, in a single instance, given the slightest ground for the imputation of being governed by personal ambition, or by any other motive than devotion to the public good. Most certainly he has in this instance given the most decisive rebuke to those who, in the recklessness of party zeal, charged him with delaying the war for his own promotion.

The Army of the Kanawha.

The bewildering, yet perfectly simple, series of operations projected by Lieut.-Gen. Grant for the May campaign have not all yet come to light. We have news from the Petersburgh Register of Thursday last, that the "Yankees have burned the bridge on New-River, on the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, and destroyed the Dublin depot, with all the supplies, &c.—Averill's work."

This operation has no immediate connection with the one which Maj.-Gen. Sigel has not yet accomplished. The New River referred to is in Southwestern Virginia, and is, by the railroad route, about a hundred miles west of Lynchburgh, while Dublin Depot is some ten miles still further west. The New River passes through Peter's Mountain, beyond which it is called the Great Kanawha. The bridge destroyed is a strong one, about 400 feet long, and there is no danger of the rebels being likely to repair it very speedily.

The rebels say that this was "Averill's work." For some weeks past a large force has been quietly gathering on the Great Kanawha, at the town of Charleston, for some work of which Gen. Grant did not choose to inform Jeff. Davis, and this is the first we have heard from it. We have a letter from the West, under date of the 12th inst., which gives some interesting intelligence concerning this column. The writer says:

"The most quiet and unheralded movement of the campaign is that from the Kanawha. It has been in preparation for several weeks, and my information is that the column is thirty thousand strong, and has moved in the direction of Newbern, (Pulaski county, Virginia, near the New river.) It must have reached that place or some other point on the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad before this letter reaches you. The rebels seem to have no sufficient force in the Valley to resist it. Its immediate object is to destroy all the rebel communications through the southwestern valley of Virginia. This done, it may turn toward Lynchburgh, or to the West, ultimately uniting with the movement through Georgia. In the meantime, the Valley of the Kanawha, and the railroads in Western Virginia, will be garrisoned by the Ohio National Guard, who are now moving to their various points of destination. I have recently been at some of the points in the West, and I assure you there is no more glorious sight in this war than to see these young men leaving the plow in the field, (as old Putnam did,) the anvil, the counter, and the factory, to rally around the flag! I trust, before this reaches you, to hear of the Army of the Kanawha, in the Valley of Virginia, striking an effective blow."

Not Very Promising.—One of our Paris correspondents, in a letter published yesterday, thinks that the "new-fledged Emperor of Mexico is very likely to die of funk before he gets near Vera Cruz at all." He adds that "he is a poor, weedy, delicate specimen of humanity, without any physical or moral constitution worth a groat; and it was precisely because of his want of energy and habitual indolence that the Emperor Napoleon selected him for a tool." If this is true, the Emperor Napoleon has been overrated. If he supposes that such a tool will answer his purposes in Mexico, he will find himself greatly mistaken. As M. Drouyn de Lhuys told Mr. Dayton, the wires by which any puppet in Mexico is to be managed will be "too long to work" easily and well; and something more than a shadow will be required at this end to make things go smoothly. Before two years are over the advocates of a monarchy in Mexico will need something more than such a tool as Maximilian is described to be, for effectual service. However, if the Emperor Napoleon is content, we have no special reason to be dissatisfied.

The Virginia Campaign.—Reinforcements are on the march for Grant, across the Potomac, Rappahannock and Po. Two things make it possible for Grant to command these reinforcements at this moment: firstly, he controls all the soldiers in the United States, and can move them at his pleasure; secondly, the prompt response of the hundred days' men in the West enables him to draw to his side the veterans at outposts and garrisons, and fill their places with these militiamen. At this moment many legions of hardy and veteran fighters from the West are with him; and not a few of those who campaigned on the Mississippi with Grant, and under him laid siege to Vicksburgh, will now campaign with him in old Virginia, and we hope will soon be able to lay siege to old Richmond.

The rest of a day or two at the close of last week, which was enjoyed by the heroes of the Wilderness and of Spottsylvania, and this infusion of new men and new vitality, will very quickly enable the Lieutenant-General to push on his successes, and complete the work which he has so gloriously begun.

Our army is still south of the Po, but whether Lee's retreat is to be continued in the direction of Richmond or Lynchburgh, is not as yet definitely settled.

West Point Soldiership Vindicated.

In the early part of the rebellion a good deal of fault was found with the policy of the Government in assigning nearly all the high commands to graduates of West Point. It was maintained that the crushing of the rebellion did not depend so much upon science as upon promptitude and energy; and the slow progress made was, with considerable plausibility, attributed to the precise and stiff habits of mind that are so apt to be superinduced by book training. It became a sort of popular demand that some, at least, of the leaders should be taken fresh from the people, and should be allowed to operate with all the popular fire and energy. Thus, Patterson, Banks, Butler, Fremont, Sickles, McCook, Lewis Wallace, McClernand, Prentiss, Shields, Carl Schurz, and other civilians of less note, were made Major-Generals. It is curious to note the result of that popular delusion. Not a civilian, of whom so much was then hoped, fulfilled expectations; and many of them are responsible for some serious damage to the cause.

To Maj.-Gen. Patterson, more than to any other man, was attributable the loss of Bull Run. His failure to move his eighteen thousand men upon Johnston, and thereby prevent the junction of the latter with Beauregard, was what mainly produced our defeat. Maj.-Gen. Prentiss it was whose division was so badly surprised by the first attack at Pittsburgh Landing; and the terrible losses of the first day were largely due to the failure of Lew. Wallace to get up his strong division, eight miles distant, until nightfall. It was Maj.-Gen. McCook's and Crittenden's forces that gave way at Chickamauga, and precipitated upon us that direful disaster. To the failure of Maj.-Gen. McClernand to come up to time was chiefly due the calamitous result of Grant's first great assault upon Vicksburgh. By the same sort of failure Maj.-Gen. Shields lost us the battle of Port Republic. It was the division of Maj.-Gen. Carl Schurz, of the Eleventh Army Corps, that first gave way in panic at Chancellorsville, which occasioned the general retreat. Maj.-Gen. Sickles, according to the official reports of Gen. Meade, commanding, and of Gen. Halleck, General-in-Chief, seriously misplaced his corps at Gettysburgh, and thereby came near bringing general defeat. Maj.-Gen. Fremont, all admit, never accomplished anything of value, though it is disputed whether this was due to any fault of his. Maj.-Gen. Butler made a serious mistake at Great Bethel, and has seen little military service since until this last expedition south of Richmond, the generalship of which has yet to be proved. Of Maj.-Gen. Banks, probably, more was expected than of any other civilian who received the double stars. The great executive abilities which he had shown in civil life—his energy, his quickness of perception, his methodical directness, his great powers of adaptation—created an almost universal belief that he would speedily become preëminent as a military Commander. The manner in which he was surprised, and in which he managed his retreat, up the Valley of the Shenandoah in the Summer of 1862, began to excite doubts in the minds of the discerning. The needless and bloody attack upon the fastnesses of Cedar Mountain increased these doubts. The assaults upon Port Hudson, in like manner needless and bloody, (for Port Hudson was bound to fall of itself as soon as Vicksburgh should surrender,) changed these doubts into a very decided opinion. And now, at last, the overthrow in Louisiana has made it plain to everybody that Maj.-Gen. Banks is practically no General at all.

All this tells very badly against civilian Commanders. West Point officers have made their mistakes, but nothing in like proportion; and all the great achievements of the war have been performed by them alone. The great confidence which every one has in the successful consummation of Gen. Grant's great campaign, springs from trust not only in his superb military science, but in that of all his Corps Commanders, who are, without exception, West Point graduates. It is felt that science, as well as courage, rules every movement of that splendid army. This is an advantage it never before enjoyed. Civilians have always before held the leadership of some important portion of it, and unscientific generalship in any portion may bring disaster to the whole.

It is note-worthy how remarkably the experience of the rebels in this respect has corresponded with our own. They began also with a considerable number of civilian Major-Generals, whom public feeling forced upon their Government, although a West Pointer was at its head, who must of course have known its folly. Not one of these has sustained himself. Pillow lost Donelson, Floyd and Wise Western Virginia, Price Missouri, Pike and Hindman Arkansas, and are all now in obscurity. So are Toombs, Cobb, Humphrey Marshall, and the rest of them. A regular military education is to-day quite as clearly recognized by the rebels as by ourselves to be indispensable for high commands.

Of course no sensible man supposes that a professional education of itself makes the Commander. There are hundreds of West Point graduates who are fit to be nothing but Colonels or Brigadiers. The true Commander must be qualified not only by West Point, but by nature. To all the skill in organization, in engineering, in strategical lines, in tactical manœuvring, which West Point only can give, must be joined the ability to think and determine correctly, not simply in the recitation room, or on the parade ground, but in the field, amidst the thunders of artillery and the flashing of musketry; to foresee and forefend losses and difficulties; to supply unexpected deficiencies; to observe with a sure intuition, and to strike with timely impetuosity; to disregard ordinary rules under extraordinary contingencies; to know and to influence human nature, and to hold the affections and the will of men, as well as their bodies, in the hand. These are qualities which are absolutely necessary to the great Commander, and which West Point, of itself, can no more give than it can make a Flora Temple of a dray horse. It is nature that makes your Flora Temples; yet, after all, what would they be without training. It is nature that makes your true Commanders; but, after all, your natural-born Commanders are of very small account without education.

Forgery of Official Documents.—We published yesterday, a letter from Lord Lyons to Earl Russell, in regard to the pretended report of the rebel Secretary of the Navy, published some months since. Lord Lyons, in that dispatch, dated March 22, says that Mr. Seward had informed him that he had discovered this document to be a forgery. Mr. Seward had made inquiries in regard to it when first published, and had been satisfied that it was genuine. But recently he had been informed by the gentleman who concocted it, and who had noticed with some dismay the importance attached to it, that he had written it originally "as a jeu d'esprit, and that partly the amusement which it had afforded to see every one taken in by it, and partly the notion that it was injuring the Confederate cause, had prevented an earlier avowal of its truth." The name of the author is not disclosed.

The British Secessionists in Parliament and the press have gone into spasms of virtuous indignation over this disclosure, and have seemed quite anxious to declare war against the United States on account of it. The secret of their affected horror, as of the protracted silence of the rebel Government and press on the subject, was that the pretended report told the truth. It stated, what every well-informed man North and South and in England knew to be true, that the rebel Government had sent agents to England and France, who had contracted for the building in their ports of ships-of-war for the rebel service. This had been proved incontrovertibly long before. The intercepted correspondence of Geo. N. Sanders, one of the agents thus employed, had proved it. The acts and declarations of others employed in the same way had proved it. Nobody, anywhere, who knew anything of what was going on, doubted it for a moment. This pretended report only put into official shape what everybody knew to be true; and its truth was so patent to everybody that nobody ventured for a long time to doubt its authenticity. It first appeared in the Sun of this City. Failing to find it in our Southern files, we took no notice of it for a fortnight. We then made inquiries which led us to believe it genuine, and we copied it into the columns of the Times. No Southern newspaper hinted that it was not genuine. No rebel official questioned its authenticity. It was known to be true, and it was (somewhat rashly, perhaps,) assumed that it might have been issued by rebel authority. Lieut. Maury first questioned its genuineness; but as everybody on this side the Atlantic knew that he was a shallow humbug and pretender, his denials commanded no respect. Mr. Seward's information, however, settles the point.

But we of the North, it seems, do not monopolize this sort of humor. We copied lately from a rebel newspaper a correspondence between the British Minister at Washington and the rebel authorities, in which the latter expressed, in very distinct and unmistakable English, the sentiments of the South toward Great Britain. We are told now that this is also a forgery. We think it very likely—not that the sentiments imputed to the South are not really entertained, but that they have not yet been embodied in official form.

It is not a very commendable style of humor, perhaps, which thus fabricates official documents, and passes them off as genuine; but this has always been done, and probably always will be. The temptation of humbugging a whole nation and a government supposed to be omniscient, is too great for mere human nature to resist. And in the case of the report of the rebel Secretary of the Navy, we may rest assured that if the British Government had not known it to be substantially true, they would not have credited it as implicitly as they did.

NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF THE THREE YEARS' 7-30 NOTES.

The Treasury has given the following notice to the holders of the three years' 7-30 notes, falling due after August 19 and October 1, 1864:

"The three years seven-thirty notes, issued under the act of July 17, 1861, are exchangeable at any time, before or at maturity, for six per cent. bonds of the acts of July 17 and August 5, 1861, when presented in sums not less than $500. The three years' notes were issued, bearing date of August 19 and October 1, 1861, and become due after August 19 and October 1, 1864. Holders of the notes of either date are notified that they may be presented for immediate exchange for six per cent. bonds, with full coupons, drawing interest from July 1, 1864, up to which date interest will be paid, without delay, on the three years' notes, at the rate of 7 30-100 per centum per annum. The interest found to be due, on the three years' notes up to July 1, 1864, will be transmitted by the United States Treasurer's draft, payable in coin. The six per cent. bonds, which are exchanged for the principal of the three years' notes, will be issued drawing interest from July 1, 1864, the date up to which the three years' notes are settled, and will be transmitted as fast as they can be conveniently prepared. Parties wishing to exchange the three years' notes in the above manner must send them to the Treasury Department in sums of $500, or its multiple, indorsed, 'Pay to the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption,' which indorsement must be signed by the party on whose account they are to be exchanged. They must be accompanied by a letter stating the numbers, denominations and dates of the notes, and the kind, registered or coupon, and denomination of the six per cent. bonds wanted in exchange. The six per cent. coupon bonds are of the denominations of $500 and $1,000, and the registered bonds are of the denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. When registered bonds are ordered, parties must state at which of the following places they wish the interest to be paid, viz.: New-York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore or New-Orleans."

THE TEN-FORTY LOAN.

The subscriptions to the 10.40 loan reported to the Treasury to May 14 amount to $48,964,900.

SKEDADDLERS IN TROUBLE.

First Lieut. John Cummings, Company H, Sixty-second New-York Volunteers, one of the skedaddling officers from the front, has been arrested and sent to the Old Capitol Prison. Some thirty or forty have been sent there within the last three or four days. They will all be court-martialed.

ARRIVAL OF WOUNDED.

Over 12,000 of our wounded have been brought up from the battle-field, and distributed among the hospitals in this city and Alexandria. A large number still remain at Belle Plain and Fredericksburgh, awaiting removal. Thousands still lie on the battle-field. Horses are being sent to the front in large numbers.

RENDITION OF REFUGEE SLAVE-TRADERS.

It is understood that an arrangement has been entered into between our Government and that of Spain for the purpose of rendering up slave-traders who escape from Cuba to the United States and from the United States to Cuba. In this connection the arrest of Col. Jose Augustia Arguelles is significant.

CHIEF OF ENGINEERS.

Some days since the President nominated to the Senate Gen. J. G. Barnard, Chief Engineer of the Defences of Washington, to be Chief of Engineers of the United States army, vice Gen. Totten, deceased. Gen. Barnard has declined the honor, and the President has sent to the Senate the name of Col. Richard Delafield, of the Engineer Corps, to fill the place of Chief of Engineers, with the rank of Brigadier-General.

TRANSFERRED.

Lieut.-Col. S. H. Lathrop, Inspector-General Twenty-second Army Corps, has been transferred to the Northern Department, and is ordered to report in person to Maj.-Gen. Heintzelman for assignment to duty.

Personal.

Rev. Dr. Potts, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in University-place, has been compelled by ill-health to take leave of his congregation and abandon for a time the attempt to perform the duties of his office. He will probably spend the season in traveling for the benefit of his health. A brief letter of farewell from him was read during the services of his church yesterday morning.

Summer Resorts.—The various watering places are putting themselves in order for the coming season. The Pavilion Hotel at Rockaway has passed into new hands, and will be kept this summer by Messrs. Walbridge & Co., known to the traveling public from their connection with the Osborne House, Rochester. Rockaway is one of the most delightful resorts for sea-bathing along our coast, and its proximity to New York must always make it a favorite summer residence.

Surgeons Wanted at Washington.—The wounded soldiers are arriving in Washington in such large numbers as to render it impossible for the surgeons now on duty there to give them the attention and care they need. Twenty volunteer surgeons are therefore wanted immediately. They will be accepted without the usual examination if recommended by well-known medical men. Pay, $100 per month. The Medical Director, U. S. A., No. 125 Bleecker-street, will receive applications, and give all necessary information.

Destruction of a Piano Manufactory by Fire.—About 9 o'clock last evening, a fire broke out in the extensive piano manufactory owned by Mr. J. Lindstadt, No. 70 Water-street, and resulted in the destruction of the interior, with contents consisting of a number of pianos, and a large amount of prepared material for their manufacture. The building is of brick, and four stories in height. It was formerly occupied as a distillery by Mr. Benson. The amount of loss could not be correctly estimated, but will, doubtless, reach from $15,000 to $20,000. It is not known how the fire originated.

THE SANITARY COMMISSION.

Its Labors During the Last Fortnight.

How the Wounded are Being Cared for.

The following brief extracts from reports made by various officers and agents of the Sanitary Commission, will give the public some idea of the magnitude of the work of benevolence now being carried on in the vicinity of every battle-field throughout the country by this truly admirable institution. It should not be forgotten, however, that the labors of the commission are subordinate and only auxiliary to the vaster and more perfectly organized system of the Medical Department of the army, with which it works in complete accord. Col. Joseph K. Barnes, Medical Inspector of the army, and at present Acting Surgeon-General, gives to the commission and its agents all the facilities within his power; and from the Quartermaster's Department valuable aid is oftentimes received. These extracts, brief and hurried as they are, give a good answer to those cavilers who ask "What does the Sanitary Commission do with all its money?"—said cavilers, probably, never having given the commission a dollar, and not being aware that its treasury has received altogether, since the commencement of the war, somewhat less than one million five hundred thousand dollars in money from all sources—the proceeds of the New-York Sanitary Fair not yet being turned over to it. It should be borne in mind that just the same labors described in these extracts are going on at Belle Plain and Fredericksburgh, are being carried on in every section of the country occupied by our armies, from Washington to the Rio Grande, and from Fortress Monroe to the Rocky Mountains.

Labors of the Sanitary Commission in Virginia.

REPORT OF THE REV. F. N. KNAPP, ASSOCIATE SECRETARY OF THE SANITARY COMMISSION, WASHINGTON, TO DR. JENKINS, CHIEF SECRETARY OF THE COMMISSION, NEW-YORK.

Washington, D. C.,
May 11, 1864—6 P. M.

* * * * You were informed by Dr. Caldwell yesterday, that at 12 M. we sent to Belle Plain the Mary F. Rapley, steam-transport, with sixty Relief Agents and seventy-five or eighty tons of assorted sanitary stores, the vessel having in tow a barge with twenty-one horses and and five strong wagons. We have loaded to-day another barge with sixteen horses and four purchased wagons, carrying the necessary forage, and to-night, or at daylight in the morning, she will go down, towed by the tugboat Gov. Curtin, also chartered for the purpose. With these nine teams the supplies can go on to Fredericksburgh rapidly, where there is need of them I can assure you, although Government is making every exertion to supply the needs, and is constantly showing increased ability to put in practice what were last year regarded as only "experiments." Thus the Government has prepared, and admirably, two large "hospital transports," and has also arranged for feeding the sick on board the other boats which are not regular floating hospitals. A Relief Agent of the Sanitary Commission came up last night with a large party of the wounded. They arrived here at 2 A. M., having left Fredericksburgh yesterday. He says our Relief Agents who accompanied the army with their wagons and stores, rendered invaluable services, of which he is writing now a brief report, which I will send to you to-morrow. He returns on our tugboat, leaving to-night or in the morning.

To-morrow we hope, at Baltimore, to hire a boat with which to carry another load of supplies up the James River, where there is hard fighting, and likely to be more of it, and where, doubtless, the needs must be great. That boat, if obtained, will take on a quantity of the sauer-kraut, vegetables, pickles, &c., &c., ordered for Norfolk. This will save Dr. McDonald the necessity of leaving his post with his store-boat. Twenty-five Relief Agents either have started or will start for Belle Plain this afternoon. We shall send some more to-morrow. Our supplies are thus far abundant.

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF MR. LEWIS H. STEINER OF THE SANITARY COMMISSION TO THE REV. F. N. KNAPP, ASSOCIATE SECRETARY.

Belle Plain, Va., May 11, 1864.

We steamed down the Potomac without any occurrence of interest until we passed a transport filled with troops, bound for Washington, who gave the flag of the commission three hearty cheers. Soon after dark we reached our fleet of hospital steamboats and barges, at the wharf of Belle Plain. Here I went ashore with Mr. Fay and saw Medical Inspector Wilson, to whom I introduced myself. He said, "You see there is enough work to be done here; I need not point it out; look around and you will find it." No sooner said than done. Fay's Auxiliary Relief Corps immediately took hold. It is divided into five divisions. That section under charge of La Barrons supplied the men on the barges with hot coffee, beef tea and crackers, while the squad under charge of Mr. Denniston pitched a large tent, and made arrangements for getting things to rights. Thus they worked until more than nine hundred wounded men were sent off in one boat, and others ad infinitum prepared to go. These labors have been of the most heartrending description, though the wounded were handled with all possible tenderness.

We have sent off four wagons to Fredericksburgh loaded with sanitary supplies. The necessities of this post will require me to remain here to-day. Dr. Cuyler will be in charge, and is here already; and Wilson will go to Fredericksburgh, whither Douglas has already gone. Pope goes with the train as store-keeper, and Fay will secure a storehouse for him in some part of the town. On the whole, the wants of the wounded at this point are so great that help is as imperatively demanded as it must be freely given. The army may have started with splendid supplies, but such an unprecedented series of engagements have never, heretofore, been known, and hence, any amount of regular supplies would be too small to meet the emergency. * * * * I have heard that our Field Relief Corps was working in the neighborhood of Fredericksburgh, although a report reaches me that Wilcox—one of the Second Corps Relief Agents was captured with his wagon while coming in from the front. I have sent messages in all directions for the agents to report here, if possible, with their wagons, so as to secure all the necessary supplies for our wounded in the hospitals. I presume to-morrow they will be here. * * * * *

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF OPERATIONS OF THE FIELD RELIEF AGENCY OF THE SANITARY COMMISSION, UNDER CHARGE OF MR. H. R. WILCOX, THIRD AND FOURTH DIVISIONS, SECOND CORPS, ARMY POTOMAC.

Wednesday, May 4, 1864.—Accompanying the Ambulance Trains, under charge of Lieut. Shook, of the Third Division, Second Army Corps, (a part of which had moved the evening previous,) we took up the line of march from our camp near Brandy Station, proceeding to Ely's Ford, which point we reached at dark, crossed the run and bivouacked near the river.

Thursday, May 5.—We continued our march toward Chancellorsville, which point we reached at 9 o'clock A. M., and bivouacked. After an hour's rest, the march was resumed in the direction of Todd's Tavern. Up to 3 P. M. nothing indicating the whereabouts of the enemy was apparent at the point of the column occupied by us; but on arriving at a point within about three miles north of Todd's Tavern, skirmishing with musketry and occasional artillery shots began to be heard. At this time an order was received from Gen. Hancock to change route. We then retraced our steps and counter-marched about two miles to a point where a road bearing to the right of Todd's Tavern was met, which we took. Marching in this direction several miles, we came upon the rear of our lines where the wounded were being brought in; and a point was here designated as the hospital of the Third and Fourth Divisions, where I located my wagons and pitched my hospital tent.

It was now quite dark, and the fighting had been conducted with vigor in our front all day, continuing until about 9 o'clock. The wounded were already numerously strewn through the grove where our hospitals were located, and the demands for sanitary stores became frequent and large. The sanitary supplies were acknowledged by the Surgeons in charge as most timely and prompt. Underclothing and blankets were the first articles in demand—the need for the latter being particularly urgent.

It may here be properly remarked, that throughout the line of march from camp at Brandy Station, a great waste of blankets could be noticed. The day was warm, and the soldiers wished to enter battle unencumbered. The roads were strewn with blankets to an extent which warrants the belief that enough were thrown away to have amply provided for every man who was wounded; whereas, owing to this waste, hundreds were obliged to lie in the night air almost naked, with wounds exposed.

FRIDAY, May 6.—The battle raged to-day in our front with terrific fury, during which our forces were obliged to relinquish three successive advantages gained on the previous day. The business of dispensing sanitary supplies was carried on briskly all day, requiring every effort to fill the demands. The wagons attached to the First and Second Division of our army corps, under Mr. HOLBROOK, were located at a short distance from my own, though the demands upon them not being so great as on mine. At the close of this day my supplies of clothing, stimulants, &c., &c., were almost entirely exhausted.

SATURDAY, May 7.—Little fighting took place to-day, but the wounded of yesterday still poured into our hospitals. My stock of clothing and other articles was in a measure renewed by supplies from Mr. HOLBROOK's wagons. Mr. JOHNSON and Capt. HARRIS spent a portion of the day at my depot, and the work progressed well.

SUNDAY, May 8.—Broke camps with division hospital supply train, and went to Chancellorsville and subsequently to Fredericksburgh, (for fresh supplies,) where we bivouacked. On the route from Chancellorsville to Fredericksburgh, we accompanied a train of ambulances and army wagons loaded with wounded soldiers and officers. The sufferings of these men cannot in any degree be realized. The road—an old plank-road—was in a wretched condition, and the groans and shrieks of the sufferers were truly heartrending. On this march the presence of the sanitary supplies were acknowledged by the poor men to be a godsend, inasmuch as ours were the only supplies in a train of two hundred wagons and ambulances. Crackers and stimulants, judiciously dispensed, gave relief to many suffering soldiers during that tedious march of twelve hours. We arrived at Fredericksburgh at midnight, the head of the column having reached that place at noon on Sunday, and the work of transferring the wounded to the houses was commenced. A tedious and painful work was this. A former acquaintance with the town enabled me to point out the most suitable houses for hospital purposes, and among these the Planters' Hotel, containing a large number of rooms furnished with beds, &c. This proved a great advantage as a ready means of making many wounded comfortable. * * * * * * * *

SUPPLIES FOR THE WOUNDED.

MR. KNAPP—Dear Sir: Four boat-loads of wounded men arrived during the night, viz.:

Connecticut, 1,300; Key Port, 425; Wanasett, 350; Daniel Webster, 400. Total, 2,475.

One-fourth part were severely wounded. Three hundred or more were brought ashore on stretchers. The Surgeon of the Connecticut says he is deeply indebted to the Sanitary Commission for their aid and kindness. The Surgeon of the Key Port says: "He does not know what he should have done had it not been for the Sanitary Commission, who furnished him with stimulants at Belle Plain for the wounded he brought up."

We gave chocolate this morning to nearly five hundred veteran soldiers of the Sixty-seventh Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers; they are on their way to the front.

We have distributed since last night,

5 barrels of crackers.
50 gallons of coffee.
50 gallons of chocolate.
150 gallons of lemonade.
30 gallons of milk punch.

We have fed the ambulance drivers at the request of Mr. TUCKER, Superintendent of the Ambulance Corps of Washington. Most of these drivers have been on duty, night and day, for the last four days, and I have yet to hear the first one grumble.

Mr. STACY merits much praise for his zeal in the work of feeding and looking after the wounded men here. Your obedient servant, J. B. ABBOTT.

THE WOUNDED WELL CARED FOR.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Thursday, May 12.

Dr. J. F. Jenkins, Assistant Secretary Sanitary Commission.

DEAR SIR: Mr. KNAPP again asks me to give you a short account of the condition of our work. The Rapley sailed again this afternoon, loaded with seventy or eighty tons of stores. Mr. FAIRCHILD went with her, in charge of thirty volunteer nurses, including Miss WOOLSEY.

A barge with eighteen horses and four large wagons went down yesterday. Offers of assistance from all the departments are coming in all the time.

I inclose by Mr. KNAPP's direction three letters, which will give you a good account of the work done at the front.

The wounded that have arrived thus far are but slightly injured, and are very well cared for on the boats. Yours respectfully, (Signed) G. C. CALDWELL.

AMUSEMENTS.

The long-promised play of "Bel Demonio" will be produced at Niblo's Garden to-night. It has been very carefully prepared, and the manager confidently expects for it an indorsement of the prodigious success that has attended its many performances in London. The cast includes some of the best members of Mr. WHEATLEY's company. Mlle. VESTVALI makes her rentrée as the hero Angelo, and Miss ROSE EYTINGE plays the part of Lena, the heroine. New scenery and dresses have been prepared for the work, and we may safely predict that it will be presented in a liberal and effective manner.

At Wallack's Theatre the comedy of "Money" will be revived, with a couple of alterations in the distribution, rendered necessary by recent changes in the company. Miss MADELINE HENRIQUES plays the part of Clara Douglas, and thus inherits one of the leading rôles formerly possessed by Mrs. HOEY. May she interpret it with equal grace, skill and intelligence. Mrs. JENNINGS assumes Miss HENRIQUES' old part of Georgiana Vesey. To-morrow, "Rosedale" will be played.

Mr. EDWIN BOOTH's engagement at the Winter Garden terminated on Saturday. It was a brilliant episode in the history of the theatre, and, so far as Mr. BOOTH was concerned, a perfect ovation from beginning to end. To-night a very charming and admirable member of the company, Mrs. CHANFRAU, takes her benefit. The lady has hosts of friends, and will surely be honored with an overflowing house. Among the volunteers for the occasion are Mr. CHANFRAU, Mr. DAN BRYANT, Mr. BROWER, and others. The play is GAYLER's "American Cousin at Home."—Mr. CHANFRAU playing Lord Dundreary and Sam therein.

The Broadway Theatre, corner of Broome-street and Broadway, opens for a regular dramatic season to-night under the management of Mr. GEORGE WOOD. Two excellent leading artists have been secured—Mr. and Mrs. D. W. WALLER, and a new piece, by Mrs. FANNY KEMBLE BUTLER, is announced, called "An English Tragedy."

Miss HENRIETTA IRVING takes her first benefit at the Olympic Theatre this evening, appearing as the Mysterious Stranger, in the comic drama of "Satan in Paris." Mrs. JOHN WOOD plays in the afterpiece—"An Unprotected Female."

The serio-comic drama of "Belphegor" has met with great success at BARNUM's Museum, and remains on the bills, day and night, during the whole of the present week. The giants, dwarfs, Albinos, aquaria, &c., &c., fill up the spare intervals. Mlle. ERNESTEIN, the beautiful young danseuse, appears each afternoon and evening in a terpsichorean scene.

Mr. GEORGE VANDENHOFF's third and last reading of his farewell series will take place at Dodworth's on Thursday evening, the 19th inst.

The Wizards, who came in hordes a few weeks ago, have now, for the most part, taken flight to other regions. ROBERT HELLER alone retains the field, and intends, we believe, to keep possession of it permanently, as HOUDIN does of the French metropolis. Judging from the admirable success that has attended his performances so far, there seems to be but little doubt of his perfect ability to command a large share of public patronage, and to place his "Salle Diabolique" in the regular category of permanent places of metropolitan amusement. Mr. HELLER's tricks are as surprising as any we have ever seen performed, while some of them are peculiar to the gentleman, and, therefore, of special value. They are always executed with "neatness, economy and dispatch." We lack the vocabulary for speaking critically of the wonders performed, and, in fact, to analyze a feat of legerdemain would be as useless as to describe the combustion of gunpowder. They are both startling phenomena, and leave a distinct perfume of brimstone on the senses. What we can discuss more rationally is the manner in which Mr. HELLER amuses as well as astonishes his audiences. Wizards, as a general thing, do not talk well. They speak too much, and say too little. In spite of the black coat, too, there is generally an air of the booth about them. A fussy and chattering reminiscence of the days when they had to "gag" people into the show, clings to their manner, and makes it tedious and sometimes offensive. Mr. HELLER is a complete exception to this rule. He comports himself with the propriety of a Puseyite, and his "choker" is immaculate. His jokes are numerous, his puns atrocious, his small talk amusing; there is not a dull moment, in fact, from the opening of his entertainment to its close; and not a vulgarity is uttered during its continuance. This is why he has succeeded in obtaining audiences that are not only large but unusually fashionable. Moreover, Mr. HELLER has positive excellencies as a musician, which add largely to the charm of an evening passed in his establishment. He has few equals as a pianist, and we should hesitate to name any one as his superior except Mr. S. B. MILLS, who is admittedly the best performer we have in the country. Every evening Mr. HELLER plays a couple of solos with a perfection of touch and execution that leaves nothing to be desired except an encore, and this, we may as well add, is never conceded. The musical programme will be altered to-night; the magical part of the entertainment remains the same as heretofore. We advise our readers to pass a couple of hours in Mr. HELLER's pleasant and well managed establishment. They will confirm all we have written in his praise.

Mr. ALFRED H. PEASE, the pianist, has just started on a concert tour westward. He has Miss LAURA HARRIS, Mr. LOTTI and Mr. HENRY MOLLENHAUER as soloists.

Mr. GRAU's provincial season is drawing rapidly to a close, and rumors come to us thick and fast that in a fortnight from now the gentleman will be at the Academy of Music. Offers, we are informed, have been made to Signor MAZZOLENI to secure that artist's services for Mr. GRAU's New-York season, but Signor MAZZOLENI's demands are extravagant, and it is probable that both Mr. GRAU and Mr. MARETZEK will in future contrive to get on without him. A summer-season is at best a hazardous experiment. If it succeeds it will be owing to the repertoire, not the singers. Mr. MARETZEK is at present reclining gracefully beneath the shadow of his own fig tree, and airily awaiting advices from Europe, whither he will take wing in a few weeks. He has the lease of the Academy for next season, and proposes to introduce a new company to the public, also two new operas.

The Allgemeinen Sangerbund give their first Festival at Jones' Wood to-day.

FALLON's "Stereopticon," the best instrument of its kind in the world, will be exhibited at Irving Hall to-night and every night until further notice. No one should miss the opportunity of seeing it.

Mrs. HENRY C. WATSON will give her fourth poetic and dramatic recitation, with vocal illustrations, at Dodworth's Hall, to-morrow (Tuesday,) evening.

Mr. and Mrs. BARNEY WILLIAMS commence a short season at the Brooklyn Academy of Music to-night.

THE HIPPOTHEATRON.—The present is the last week of SPALDING & ROGERS's great Ocean Circus at this establishment, as it departs on a brief Summer tour, prior to undertaking another voyage across the Atlantic to the ports of the Mediterranean and Constantinople. All the attractions of this monster company—equestrian, acrobatic, gymnastic and athletic—will be put forth in the new and final valedictory programmes, as the proprietors are bent on leaving the most favorable impressions behind them. And, marked as has been the success they have previously achieved, they express their intention of eclipsing their previous efforts in their last week of performing in New-York.

Marine Disasters.

BOSTON, Sunday, May 15.

The bark Lawrence, from Cadiz, is reported ashore on Toddy Rocks, in Nantucket Roads.

The British brig A. H. Gordon, from Cape Town, went ashore at Scituate last night in the fog and requires assistance to get off.

FATAL AFFRAY AMONG GERMANS—TWO OFFENDERS ARRESTED.—On the afternoon of the 8th inst. a party of Germans became involved in a quarrel in Avenue A. During the fight stones, clubs, brickbats and other missiles were freely used. Several of the combatants were badly injured during the combat, and among the number was FREDERICK BROSHERT. He was struck on the head with a stone, alleged to have been thrown by JOHN SITER, residing at No. 449 East Sixteenth-street. A section of policemen from the Seventeenth Precinct arrested the delinquents and took them before the Police Court, where they were fined $5 each, and required to find bail to keep the peace. BROSHERT went home, grew rapidly worse, and on Saturday night last he died from the effects of his wounds. Shortly before his death the Coroner was notified to take his ante-mortem examination, but upon his arrival there, the wounded man was found to be insensible. Coroner WILDEY, therefore, took the deposition of FRANK BLANK, a brother-in-law of the deceased. SITER, and a man named LEWIS GANT, have been arrested, and are held to await the result of the Coroner's inquest, which will be held to-day. Deceased was a native of Germany, aged 24 years, and resided at No. 77 Avenue A. He has left a wife and two or three children.

SUICIDE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.—On Saturday night last a young man named WILLIAM DENBROOK, a barkeeper employed at the Sheepshead Bay Hotel, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. The deceased had long been afflicted with the dropsy, and latterly had swollen to an unusual size, which compelled him to take to his bed. Becoming despondent, he resolved to end his existence, which he did during the temporary absence of a man who was attending upon him. The deceased was 26 years of age, a native of Bremen, and unmarried. The Coroner was notified to hold an inquest.

DR. ROWE'S SUCCESS.—The following was received by Dr. ROWE, yesterday. It goes to show how great his success is in the treatment of Catarrh, thus demonstrating how much can be accomplished when talent is devoted to an especial object. This is but one of many similar:

NO. 8 BENNETT-ST., BOSTON, Mass., May 12, 1864.

Dr. Rowe, No. 16 West Fourteenth-st., New-York:

DEAR SIR: Having been troubled with Catarrh for a number of years, the effects of which were the loss of smell, dizziness of the head, with a constant heaviness over the eyes, while the passage from the head to the throat was filled up by an accumulation of soft spongy substance, I placed myself under your care. Though a little over two months since you have been treating me, quite a considerable change has taken place in my health. The dizziness in my head, together with the pressure over my eyes, has almost entirely gone, my sense of smell has very much improved, and I breathe quite freely through the nose. Although not entirely cured during the short time I have been under your treatment, yet I am quite confident that, by following the directions prescribed, the disease will soon be effectually removed.

Yours, respectfully, J. L. GOODELL.

P. S.—Any one desirous of obtaining any information regarding my case, you can refer to my brother-in-law, Mr. S. SWEET, Jr., No. 30 Joralemon-street, Brooklyn.—Sunday Dispatch.

MANHATTAN FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY—ONE OF THE OLDEST FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN AMERICA.—This old Manhattaner was incorporated in 1821. Its capital has been increased from $250,000 to $500,000. Its surplus, added to this, gives a total of $750,000 assets. Rightly, did its directors resolve, by a unanimous vote, when the increase in capital was made, to increase that capital to $1,000,000, at the earliest possible opportunity, for not only is the Manhattan thoroughly grounded, it is thoroughly well managed. The names of ROBERT B. MINTURN, MOSES TAYLOR, EDWIN D. MORGAN, RUFUS L. LORD, PETER COOPER, SIDNEY MASON, HENRY BAYLIS, and other leading merchants, appear on its list of Directors—sure guarantees of stability and good government. We cannot, therefore, speak too strongly in praise of this old and solid corporation.—Boston Post

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 8, 1864, which provides that all Bonds issued under this act shall be BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption, FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually, and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the first days of March and September in each year. As these Bonds, by act of Congress, are their value is increased from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levies in various parts of the country.

EXEMPT FROM MUNICIPAL OR STATE TAXATION.

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay

OVER EIGHT PER CENT. INTEREST in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of U. S. Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

Instructions to the National Banks acting as loan agents were not issued until March 26, but the amount of Bonds reported sold at the United States Treasury up to May 7 was $44,606,100.

Subscriptions will be received by the TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES at Washington, and the ASSISTANT TREASURERS at New-York, Boston and Philadelphia, and by the

THE DRAFT POSTPONED.

TWELVE HUNDRED VOLUNTEERS WANTED.

A CHANCE FOR PATRIOTS!

It having been determined that the City of New-York is deficient only TWELVE HUNDRED AND SEVENTEEN men, in its quota under the President's call for 200,000 men, the Draft has been postponed for a few days, in order to enable the filling of the quota, if possible, by volunteering.

The County Volunteer Committee now appeal to the patriotism of the citizens of this County to aid them in raising the Twelve Hundred and Seventeen Men needed, and thus save the County from the misfortune of a Draft.

The County Volunteer Committee will pay the following bounties until further notice:

FOR ARMY RECRUITS	$300
FOR MARINES	300
FOR NAVAL RECRUITS FOR THREE YEARS	300
FOR NAVAL RECRUITS FOR TWO YEARS	200
FOR NAVAL RECRUITS EOR ONE YEAR	100

A County premium of $10 will also be paid for bringing an army recruit to this office, in addition to the Government premium of $10, and a County premium of $20 will be paid for bringing a naval recruit.

Let the citizens of New-York make one grand and final rally to save us from the impending draft.

CHALLENGE TO WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Wendell Phillips, Esq.:

SIR: I wrote to you some months since (agreeably to the suggestion of a friend,) inviting you, in the most respectful terms, to meet me in this City, in fair and public debate, at the Academy of Music, or Cooper Institute, or any appropriate place upon the subject of Radical Abolitionism, Contrasted with Constitutional Patriotism, of the former of which you are the acknowledged champion. I signed the invitation to such debate with the letters "A. A. B. B.," informing you at the same time, that if you received the invitation in a favorable manner, I would write to you immediately, and inform you of my true name, &c.

I have received no answer to the note I sent you, and upon the advice of the friend who first suggested the propriety of sending you the invitation privately, I now give you publicly a second challenge to meet me as before stated, say about the 25th of this month, as my private business will not allow me to meet you much earlier. The time and place of the debate can be determined hereafter.

Now, sir, I would like very much to have you inform me through the same paper—the New-York Herald—in which you will find this second challenge, whether you will or will not, whether you dare or dare not, meet me in fair and open debate, upon the question as before stated: Radical Abolitionism, Contrasted with Constitutional Patriotism.

I will state, in conclusion, that as my name is not very well known in many political circles in this State, it is nevertheless known and respected by men of the very highest influence in the political and commercial world, as can be ascertained if necessary.

In haste, T. H. HEERMANS.

THE CASE OF HUTCHINGS, THE "LIGHTNING CALCULATOR."

There was published in these columns a few days since the remarkable cure of Hutchings, the "Lightning Calculator," so well known to the public during the many years he exhibited his wonderful arithmetical powers at Barnum's Museum, by the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Hutchings is represented to have been at the point of death, and but for the timely interference of the Doctor, would now be resting in his grave. This is a remarkable case, and worthy of the attention of persons similarly afflicted.

We think it is but just to Doctor Von Eisenberg to call public attention to this case. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, who, like the "Lightning Calculator," if not actually praying for death, are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is within his power to make them whole or not.

EARS TO THE DEAF.

Every man, and especially every woman, believes in his or her physician. There are philosophical minds which hold to an abstract faith in Allopathy, or Homeopathy, or Hydropathy, or some other form of scientific cure; but with the world at large the belief is not in the system, but in the doctor. Especially is this true as regards aurists and oculists. The patient who has recovered his sight or his hearing is sure that the blessing could have been restored to him by no other practitioner than that particular one by whom his eyes or ears were opened. Dr. Von Eisenberg is among our best-known aurists. He has not lent us ears as a brother practitioner has eyes, and in whose skill, therefore, we believe above all others. But we hear of him from those who esteem him not merely as a surgeon, but as a benefactor. A recent case has been related to us, for the truthfulness of which we can vouch, though we can name no names. The patient was a lady who had been deaf from infancy, as a consequence of some of the ailments to which children are liable. Latterly the disease had taken an acute form, and the patient was subject to intense suffering. The deafness was rapidly becoming complete, and the general health breaking down under the physical exhaustion attendant upon constant pain. Ordinary remedies and ordinary advice were useless, and Dr. Von Eisenberg was called in. We need not repeat his diagnosis, for that would be only a list of hard names to the general reader. But he detected at sight the seat of disease, first in one portion of the organism, then in another, and with manipulation as skillful as his insight was accurate, he removed the causes, and she who, from infancy, had heard with difficulty, and latterly hardly at all, was restored first to perfect hearing and then to perfect health. Dr. Von Eisenberg's advertisement reminds us of this case, which we thus briefly relate, though not at his solicitation. Let him that hath not ears, hear.

SIGHT RESTORED.

CONCERNING EYES AND OCULISTS.

Of the five senses, that which we call seeing is the most important and most valued. In proportion as this sense fails us, we are reduced to helplessness. If entirely destitute of sight, how slow would be our progress in knowledge, and how limited our sphere of action and usefulness. Endowed with it, the universe becomes a new creation, clothed with beauty and diversified by that infinite variety which never fails to attract the mind and heart.

For several months past this has been a practical subject to us. An inflamed condition of the eyelids communicating itself to the pupil, rendered the discharge of daily duties not only painful, but dangerous. Attributing it to the effect of a cold, we endured it through the Spring, with the hope that with the return of warm weather it would entirely disappear. But in this we were doomed to disappointment. Summer returned, but not our wonted sight. What might have been the result, either of further neglect or of incompetent treatment, we cannot say.

Stating our case to a friend, he assured us that a similar one in his own family had recently been treated with entire success by Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Satisfying ourselves by more particular inquiries that the doctor is no empiric, but a scientific oculist and aurist, we concluded to seek the benefits of his treatment, which we have now reason to acknowledge is very great. Though but a few weeks under his care, the appearance of our eyes has totally changed. The pupil is now full and clear, and the lids are entirely free from inflammation. The doctor says that the optic nerve has been weakened and the retina assumed a chronic inflammatory state, affecting more or less all the other tissues, and threatening, if neglected, to end in Amaurosis. Opthalmitis, is the term we believe, which oculists apply to eyes affected as were ours. Having obtained the much desired relief, we take great pleasure in acknowledging our indebtedness to the talent of Dr. Von Eisenberg, and of calling to it the attention of others who may be suffering from a similar or even worse condition of their eyes. It is said that Providence provides an antidote for every bane. It is certain that the eye is, in these times, subject to severer trials than formerly. Let us be thankful, then, that as we increase the tendencies which destroy the organ of vision, the progress of science keeps pace with these tendencies, if not in advance of them.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH P. T. BARNUM.

MR. BARNUM CONSENTS TO WRITE
FOR
THE NEW-YORK MERCURY,
AT THE RATE OF
TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS A WEEK,
FOR ONE YEAR.

It will be seen from the subjoined letters that Mr. Barnum, at the earnest solicitation of the proprietors of the NEW-YORK MERCURY, has consented to write for the columns of their paper a series of articles, to be entitled "The Ancient and Modern Humbugs of the World," for the sum of TEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS.

NEW-YORK MERCURY OFFICE,
No. 113 FULTON-ST., April 25, 1864.

P. T. Barnum, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: For what sum will you write for publication in the New-York Mercury a series of fifty-two articles—one per week for one year—upon "The Ancient and Modern Humbugs of the World?" An early reply will oblige, respectfully, yours,
CAULDWELL & WHITNEY,
Proprietors of the New-York Mercury.

AMERICAN MUSEUM, April 28, 1864.

GENTLEMEN: Yours of yesterday is received. I am quite too much occupied, not in humbugging, but in amusing and gratifying the public, to write for you on any terms. Truly, yours, P. T. BARNUM.
Messrs. CAULDWELL & WHITNEY, proprietors of the New-York Mercury.

NEW YORK MERCURY OFFICE, April 27, 1864.

P. T. Barnum, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: Our object is the same as yours—to interest, instruct and amuse the public. To this end we devote our time, capital, and whatever talent and knowledge we possess. Yet we contrive occasionally to find leisure to visit your Museum. Cannot you reciprocate, and pay a weekly literary visit to our columns for the entertainment of hundreds of thousands of readers. With the hope that you will reconsider the matter, we make the following offer:

We will give you ten thousand four hundred dollars ($10,400,) payable in weekly advance installments of two hundred dollars ($200) each for one article per week for one year, on the subject proposed in our former note—the articles to average respectively one column (or more.) The topic, "Ancient and Modern Humbugs of the World," will give you an opportunity of explaining your views on a very curious and fruitful theme, and of illustrating them by incidents which have come under your observation during your extensive travels in both hemispheres, and while catering for the amusement of the public through a long series of years.

Your professional reminiscences, given in your peculiar original and humorous style, would, we have no doubt, form a rare chapter of Wit and Romance in the history of popular entertainments of every kind and class. In fact, we will not insist that all of your articles shall be confined to a History of Ancient and Modern Humbugs, but prefer rather that you shall not keep back a good anecdote or illustration, even if it is irrelevant to this particular subject.

Although the pecuniary consideration may be of small consequence to one who can make money so readily, perhaps the thought of ministering to the enjoyment of half a million of readers per week, for a twelvemonth, may induce you, on reflection, to comply with our request. Hoping for a favorable answer,

We remain sincerely yours,
CAULDWELL & WHITNEY.

AMERICAN MUSEUM, April 28, 1864.

GENTLEMEN: You are irrepressible. Were it not that I know you to be "live" men who publish a "live" paper, I should think your munificent offer a wild mistake; but as you generally know what you are about, I am bound to suppose that it is not made at random or on false grounds. This consideration is flattering, and affords me a more realizing sense of the value of notoriety than I have ever before experienced. Dismissing, therefore, my first idea, that you were blindly rushing into a hazardous speculation, and adopting your estimate of my own commercial value, I frankly accede to your proposition. I have always held it as a maxim that a man should make a profitable use of his gifts, whatever they may be, always provided that he uses them legitimately; and I know of no way in which they can be more legitimately employed than for the delectation of the people.

Holding myself in readiness to commence the series at any time, and accepting your suggestion to introduce prominently into the papers the fund of anecdote, incident, and information acquired during my long experience as a caterer for the world's amusement, I am, gentleman,

Your considerably astonished friend and servant,
P. T. BARNUM.
Messrs. CAULDWELL & WHITNEY.

NEW-YORK MERCURY OFFICE, April 28, 1864.

P. T. Barnum, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: Perhaps it may relieve your mind to know that we expect to take the lion's share of the profits of your papers on the "Ancient and Modern Humbugs of the World."

Inclosed you will find our check for two hundred dollars ($200) for your first article, which be kind enough to send us at your earliest convenience. Please supply us punctually with an article every week, and believe us,

Very truly, yours,
CAULDWELL & WHITNEY.

Mr. Barnum's papers on "THE ANCIENT AND MODERN HUMBUGS OF THE WORLD," to which the above correspondence refers, commence in THE NEW-YORK MERCURY of May 28, ready at noon TO-DAY at all the news depots in the Union.

MINING SUPERINTENDENT.
ALFRED THOMSON, Esq., Central City, Colorado.
OFFICE OF THE COMPANY, NO. 8 PINE-ST., N. Y.

This company is organized to work the Thomson and Talbot mines, situated 25 feet northwest of the "Consolidated Gregory Company's Works," and those of Lee, Judd & Lee, in the Gregory district, midway between the Gregory and Bates lodes, and comprising 900 feet of thoroughly developed and worked property, on the parallel Bledsoe and Louisa lodes, with mill site, building, tools, ores, &c., and also 606 feet of first-class lodes, undeveloped, in the immediate vicinity.

The shafts have been sunk through the cap to the depth of 105 feet, and the abundance and rich quality of the ores fully proved by assay and actual working. Being but fourteen feet apart, the two lodes may be worked together with but little more than the ordinary expense of working one. Reliable estimates and vouchers in the possession of the company, show the capacity of the mines, as now developed, to yield, with the new machinery which the company hope to have in operation by Aug. 1 next, $1,200 per day in gold, which, allowing for estimated expenses, is over ONE HUNDRED PER CENT. UPON THE WHOLE CAPITAL.

While such an estimate, following the fashion of the day, would amply justify a capital of ONE or TWO MILLIONS, yet no such capital being in fact necessary, the company have thought the true interest of the stockholders would best be consulted by fixing the amount of their capital upon the basis of an actual cash requirement, and leaving the dividends to be paid monthly or quarterly, to determine the real value of their stock.

The capital is therefore fixed at $250,000, of which $50,000 is reserved as a working capital. The greater part of the stock is already taken; $100,000, including the working capital, may be subscribed for, ONLY AT PAR, at the office of WHITE, MORRIS & CO., bankers, No. 29 Wall-st., and at the Sixth National Bank, corner 34th-st. and Broadway, payable one-half ($5 per share) at time of subscribing, balance on the 1st day of June.

The working capital is amply sufficient for stocking the mines with first class machinery, and will be faithfully devoted to that object. An experienced agent, entirely familiar with them, leaves for the mines immediately.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

TO CAPITALISTS.

An interest in a Foundry and Machine-shop in Saint Louis, Mo., for sale. A party with not less than $25,000, (a larger amount could be used to advantage,) desiring to invest in an old and well established foundry and machine-shop, in Saint Louis, Mo., now doing a large and profitable business, can purchase an interest therein, by addressing the undersigned, who will give all necessary information. By action of the State Convention, Missouri is now a free State, and her immense mineral wealth, developed by free labor, will make her one of the richest States in the West. The abundance of iron and coal in the immediate vicinity of the city, makes this a very desirable investment. WM. H. MARKHAM, Saint Louis, Mo.

OIL WELLS.—PARTNER, SILENT, WANTED, with $2,000 or $3,000, to assist the advertiser, who is engaged sinking wells in Pennsylvania, and has an option to purchase a tract of land, promising to yield 100 to 1,000 barrels a day each well; a number of wells can be worked; no arrangement will be consummated until parties are fully satisfied. Address OIL WELLS, Post-Office.

PERSONAL.—A MAN WITH SMALL CAPITAL can purchase the patent right of an article used by every business man; costs but little, sells itself, and gives an immense profit; to be sold, as the patentee has made money enough. Apply at room No. 104, Crook's Hotel, Chatham-st., from 11 to 3 o'clock.

WANTED—TO MEET A PARTY HAVING $10,000 in cash, to invest as equal partner in a business of which I have the exclusive control. There is any amount of money in the business, and it can be extended to every city in the States. Address for an interview, C. O. Z., Box No. 183 Times Office.

WANTED.—A PARTY OWNING 121 ACRES OF land in Greene County, N. Y., and having some money, wishes to give the same for a small improved property, 25 or 40 miles from New-York. Call on JOSEPH C. LAWRENCE, No. 5 Wall-st.

DIVIDENDS.

NEW-YORK, April 4, 1864.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, OFFICE OF THE PAYMASTER-GENERAL, ALBANY, May 9, 1864.

FOR WANT OF LIKE FACILITIES AS as were afforded me in the Northern and Western Divisions, the men enlisted under the recent calls in the Southern Division of the State (comprising the first ten Congressional Districts) were obliged, most of them, to go to the field without the State bounty. In the recent battles many, whom the Paymaster had not as yet been able to reach in the field, may have been killed.

Widows and others, residing in New-York City and its vicinity, having claims on this office, will, if they call on Maj. ROBERT BENSON, Jr., No. 7 State-street, New-York City, have their papers arranged and forwarded, FREE OF EXPENSE.

JOHN D. VAN BUREN, Paymaster-General.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY—TWENTY SURGEONS, for duty in Washington, D. C.; pay, $100 per month. If recommended by well known medical men they will be accepted and forwarded without the usual examination. Apply to the Medical Director, U. S. A., No. 125 Bleecker-st., New-York.

PROPOSALS

PROPOSALS FOR $200,000
"NEW-YORK COUNTY COURT-HOUSE STOCK."

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's Office until WEDNESDAY, May 25, 1864, at 2 o'clock, P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the whole or any part of the sum of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars of "The New-York County Court-house Stock," authorized by Chap. 242 of the Laws of 1864, and by an ordinance of the Board of Supervisors, approved by the Mayor, May 3, 1864.

The said stock is to provide additional means for the construction and completion of the new County Court-house on Chambers-street. It will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, paying semi-annually on the first day of May and November in each year, and the principal will be redeemable as follows, viz: One hundred thousand dollars on the first day of November, 1885, and one hundred thousand dollars on the first day of November, 1886.

The proposals will state the amount of stock desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the County Treasurer, the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the County Treasurer for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the sums awarded to them, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

Each proposition should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for New-York County Court-house Stock," and inclosed in a second envelope addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids if the interest of the County require it.

MATTHEW T. BRENNAN, Comptroller.

CITY OF NEW-YORK—DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, May 14, 1864.

PROPOSALS FOR $300,000
CENTRAL PARK IMPROVEMENT FUND STOCK OF 1876.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's Office until TUESDAY, the 17th day of May, 1864, at 1 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened for the whole or any part of the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars of the Central Park Improvement Fund Stock, authorized by Chapter 85 of the Laws of 1860, and by an Ordinance of the Common Council, approved by the Mayor April 25, 1860.

The said Stock will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable quarter-yearly, and the principal will be redeemed November 1, 1876.

The proposals will state the amount of Stock desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof; and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the Chamberlain of the City the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the Stock, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

Each proposition should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Central Park Improvement Fund Stock," and inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interests of the Corporation require it.

MATTHEW T. BRENNAN, Comptroller.

CITY OF NEW-YORK—DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, April 16, 1864.

POST-OFFICE, NEW-YORK, May 13, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until 12 o'clock M. on MONDAY, the 23d inst., for transporting the United States Mail between this office and the several railroad depots and steamboat landings in this City.

The number of trips necessary for the performance of this service at the present time are as follows, viz.:

TO HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD DEPOT, corner of Warren and Chambers sts., nine trips daily, (Sundays excepted,) and on Sundays three trips to 30th-st.

TO NEW-HAVEN RAILROAD DEPOT, corner of 27th-st. and 4th-av., ten trips daily, (Sundays excepted,) and two trips on Sundays.

TO HARLEM RAILROAD DEPOT, corner of 26th-st. and 4th-av., two trips daily, (Sundays excepted.)

TO NEW-JERSEY TRANSPORTATION CO.'S RAILROAD DEPOT, foot of Cortlandt-st., eleven trips daily, (Sundays excepted,) and four trips on Sundays.

TO CAMDEN AND AMBOY RAILROAD CO.'S STEAMBOAT, foot of Barclay-st., three trips each day, (Sundays excepted.)

TO NEW-JERSEY CENTRAL RAILROAD DEPOT, foot of Cortlandt-st., or elsewhere, six trips daily, (Sundays excepted.)

TO MARINERS' HARBOR STEAMBOAT, Pier No. 2 North River, or elsewhere, two trips daily, (Sundays excepted.)

The wagons employed in the performance of this service must be so covered as to afford ample protection to the mails, and must be such as shall in all respects be satisfactory to the Postmaster at New-York.

Proposals for this service must be made with a due regard to the number and length of trips performed, in order that should additional trips be required "a pro rata" compensation may be allowed, or should a less number prove sufficient, the "pro rata" therefore may be deducted.

All proposals for this service must be guaranteed by two responsible citizens, who shall bind themselves, that in case his or their bids are accepted, the service shall be satisfactorily performed.

The lowest responsible bidder will be accepted, and designated as "Mail Messenger," and must be prepared to commence the service at an early date after being notified of the acceptance of his bid.

All proposals for the above service must be sealed, and addressed to the Postmaster of New-York, indorsed Proposals for Mail Messenger Service.

S. L. BROWN, Capt. and A. Q. M., U. S. A.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR FORAGE.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON DEPOT, Dec. 8, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS are invited by the undersigned for supplying the United States Quartermaster's Department, at Washington, D. C., Baltimore, M. D., Alexandria and Fort Monroe, Va., or either of these places, with Hay, Corn, Oats and Straw.

Bids will be received for the delivery of 5,000 bushels of corn or oats, and 50 tons of hay or straw, and upward.

Bidders must state at which of the above-named points they propose to make deliveries, and the rates at which they will make deliveries thereat, the quantity of each article proposed to be delivered, the time when said deliveries shall be commenced, and when to be completed.

The price must be written out in words on the bids.

Corn to be put up in good stout sacks, of about two bushels each. Oats in like sacks, of about three bushels each. The sacks to be furnished without extra charge to the Government. The hay and straw to be securely baled.

The particular kind or description of oats, corn, hay or straw, proposed to be delivered, must be stated in the proposals.

All the articles offered under the bids herein invited will be subject to a rigid inspection by the Government Inspector before being accepted.

Contracts will be awarded from time to time to the lowest responsible bidder, as the interest of the Government may require, and payment will be made when the whole amount contracted for shall have been delivered and accepted.

The bidder will be required to accompany his proposal with a guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, that in case his bid is accepted, he or they will, within ten days thereafter, execute the contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to deliver the forage proposed in conformity with the terms of this advertisement; and in case the said bidder should fail to enter into the contract, they to make good the difference between the offer of said bidder and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of a United States District-Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known at his office.

All bidders will be duly notified of the acceptance or rejection of their proposals.

The full name and Post-office address of each bidder must be legibly written in the proposal.

Proposals must be addressed to Brigadier-General D. H. Rucker, Chief Depot Quartermaster, Washington, D. C., and should be plainly marked "Proposals for Forage."

Bonds, in the sum equal to the amount of the contract, signed by the contractor and both of his guarantors, will be required of the successful bidder or bidders upon signing the contract.

Blank forms of bids, guarantees and bonds, may be obtained upon application at this office.

FORM OF PROPOSAL.

(Town, County, and State,)——————
(Date)——————

I, the subscriber, do hereby propose to furnish and deliver to the United States, at the Quartermaster's Department, at ———, agreeably to the terms of your advertisement, inviting proposals for forage, dated Washington Depot, Dec. 8, 1863, the following articles, viz.:

——— bushels of Corn, in sacks, at ——— per bushel of 56 pounds.
——— bushels of Oats, in sacks, at ——— per bushel of 32 pounds.
——— tons of baled Hay, at ——— per ton of 2,000 pounds.
——— tons of baled Straw, at ——— per ton of 2,000 pounds.

Delivery to commence on or before the ——— day of ———, 186–, and to be completed on or before the ——— day of ———, 186–, and pledge myself to enter into a written contract with the United States, with good and approved securities, within the space of ten days after being notified that my bid has been accepted.

Your obedient servant,

Brig.-Gen. D. H. RUCKER, Chief Depot Quartermaster, Washington, D. C.

GUARANTEE.

We, the undersigned, residents of ———, in the County of ———, and State of ———, hereby jointly and severally covenant with the United States, and guarantee in case the foregoing bid of ——— be accepted, that he or they will, within ten days after the acceptance of said bid, execute the contract for the same with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to furnish the forage proposed in conformity to the terms of advertisement dated Dec. 8, 1863, under which the bid was made, and, in case the said ——— shall fail to enter into a contract as aforesaid, we guarantee to make good the difference between the offer by the said ——— and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

Witness, { Given under our hands and seals this ——— day of ———, 186
[Seal.]
[Seal.]

I hereby certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the above-named guarantors are good and sufficient as sureties for the amount for which they offer to be security.

To be certified by the United States District Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known at this office.

All proposals received under this advertisement will be opened and examined at this office on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, at 12 M. Bidders are respectfully invited to be present at the opening of bids, if they desire.

D. H. RUCKER, Brigadier-General and Quartermaster.

ORDNANCE OFFICE, WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, May 1, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until MONDAY, the 23d day of May, 1864, for the delivery at the following Arsenals, Cavalry Accoutrements, United States Cavalry pattern, as hereinafter specified.

At the New-York Arsenal, 25,000 sets.
At the St. Louis Arsenal, 5,000 sets.
At the Frankfort Arsenal, 10,000 sets.
At the Alleghany Arsenal, 10,000 sets.

These Accoutrements are to be made in strict conformity with the regulation pattern, which can be seen at the above-named places. Each set is to consist of one Sabre-belt and Plate complete; one Carbine-sling with swivel complete; one Sabre-knot; one Carbine Cartridge box; one Pistol Cartridge-box or Pouch; one Belt-holster for army-size revolver, and one Cap-pouch with cone pick. All of which are to be made of the best materials and workmanship. The Sabre belt, Sabre-knot, and Carbine-sling are to be of BUFF LEATHER BLACKED, and the Cartridge-boxes, Belt-holster, and Cap-pouch, of PURE OAK TANNED LEATHER.

It is distinctly understood that this Department is to have the privilege of inspecting the work done under any contract it may award, in all stages of its progress; especially, to examine the stock before cutting. They are to be subject to the final inspection at the arsenal where delivered before being received by the Government. None are to be accepted or paid for but such as are approved upon inspection.

Deliveries must be made in lots of not less than one-tenth (1-10th) per week of the whole number contracted for; the first delivery to be made on the 20th day of June.

Failure to make deliveries at a specified time will subject the contractor to a forfeiture of the number he may fail to deliver at that time.

The Accoutrements must be boxed in the usual manner; the boxes to be charged cost, to be determined by the inspector.

Bidders will state explicitly the Arsenal, or Arsenals, where they propose to deliver, and the number of sets they propose to deliver at each place, if for more than one.

No bids will be considered from parties other than regular manufacturers, and such as are known to this department to be fully competent to execute in their own shops the works proposed for. Should any party obtaining a contract offer accoutrements other than those made in his own shops, they will be rejected, and the contract rendered null and void.

Bidders will enclose with their bids the written acknowledgments of their sureties over their own signatures.

Each party obtaining a contract will be obliged to enter into bonds with approved sureties for its faithful execution.

Upon the award being made, successful bidders will be notified and furnished with forms of contract and bonds.

The department reserves the right to reject any or all bids if not deemed satisfactory.

Proposals will be addressed to "BRIG.-GEN. GEORGE D. RAMSAY, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.," indorsed, "Proposals for Cavalry Accoutrements."

GEORGE D. RAMSAY, Brigadier-General, Chief of Ordnance.

Bids will also be received for these accoutrements to be made of the BEST GRAINED LEATHER, instead of buff.

ORDNANCE OFFICE—WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED by this department until MONDAY, May 23, at 4 P. M., for the delivery at the New-York Arsenal of 25,000 Light Cavalry Sabres, United States regulation pattern. These Sabres are to be made in strict accordance with the standard patterns to be seen at the New-York Arsenal. They are to be subject to the usual inspection and proof at the manufactory where made. Deliveries must be made in lots of not less than one-tenth (1-10th) per week of the whole number contracted for. The first delivery to be made on the 22d day of June, 1864.

Failure to make deliveries at a specified time will subject the contractor to a forfeiture of the number he may fail to deliver at that time.

No bids will be considered from parties other than regular manufacturers of sabres, and such as are known to this department to be such, competent to execute in their own workshops the work proposed for.

Each party obtaining a contract will be required to enter into bonds, with approved sureties, for its faithful execution.

Bidders will inclose with their bids the written acknowledgments of their sureties over their own signatures.

Upon the award being made, successful bidders will be notified and furnished with forms of contract and bond.

The department reserves the right to reject any or all bids if not deemed satisfactory.

Proposals will be addressed to "BRIG.-GEN. GEORGE D. RAMSAY, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.," and will be indorsed "Proposals for Light Cavalry Sabres."

GEORGE D. RAMSAY, Brigadier-General, Chief of Ordnance.

MEDICAL.

DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMŒOPATHIC REMEDIES have been ten years before the public, and are used by thousands of families, and are everywhere commended for their simplicity, economy, and great curative value. A full case, with 35 large vials and book of directions is sold for $8, or sent to any address, free of charge, by express, on receipt of the price. Address Dr. F. HUMPHREYS, office and depot, No. 562 Broadway, N. Y.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhea or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 61 Franklin-st. Call, send, or write.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 61 Franklin-st., between Broadway and Elm-st., New-York.

AFFLICTED RESTORED—IGNORANCE EXPOSED—FALLACIES UNMASKED.—Highly important to both sexes, married or single, in health or disease. Dr. LARMONT'S Paris London and New-York Medical Adviser and Marriage Guide, (80th edition. 400 pages, nearly 100 anatomical illustrations,) upon Debility, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Sexual Diseases, European hospital practice, the Author's unequaled Paris and London treatment, &c. All should purchase this useful work of the publisher, E. WARNER, No. 1 Vesey-st., for $1, or consult the Doctor, 173 Broadway, up stairs, New York, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. "We concur with other papers in recommending Dr. Larmont and his work."—Courrier des Etats Unis, Germania, Reform, Dispatch, Staats Zeitung, Atlas, Medical Review.

DR. CORBETT, MEMBER OF THE N. Y. University, (Medical College,) and Royal College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to his present very convenient suite of offices at No. 22 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., with a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs; thirty years in his present specialty, (three of which have been at the Hospitals of this City,) enable him to guarantee a cure in every case undertaken, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP CURES CERtain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting or sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours. It roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb unless this remedy is used. It is one dollar a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City. A book that treats of the dreadful effects of early abuse. Two hundred pages. Sent by mail for ten three-cent stamps. Male and Female Preventive, five dollars.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, whose valuable book entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family, with full instructions for restoring the monthly sickness. Price $1. Sold at his offices. No. Liberty st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York Post-office. For sale by E. WARNER, at No. 1 Vesey-st. (Astor House), No. 18 Ann-st. and No. 13 Court-st., Boston.

ADVICE TO MARRIED OR SINGLE LADIES, who require a safe and certain remedy for removing obstructions, from whatever cause. Can rely upon the celebrated INFALLIBLE FRENCH FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. No. 1, price $1 a box, to restore the monthly sickness in forty-eight hours, if of short standing; but obstinate cases, of long standing, may require No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy, price $5 a box. Sold at No. 127½ Liberty-st., or sent by mail, with full instructions, by addressing Box No. 2,350 N. Y. Post-office.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in case of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, 61 Franklin-st. N. Y.

DR. P. P. WELLS ANNOUNCES TO HIS friends and strangers who may visit Newport R. I., during the coming season, and to its resident citizens, that he has taken rooms at Miss Hazzard's, corner of William and Touro sts., where he will attend to the practice of his profession after June 15, 1864.

PRESIDENT:
JAMES BROWN.
VICE-PRESIDENTS:
WILLIS BLACKSTONE,
DR. A. GESCHEIDT,
JOHN T. JOHNSTON,
JOHN C. GREEN,
SECRETARY:
S. WEIR ROOSEVELT.

The Citizens' Association of the XVth Ward will hold a mass meeting at HOPE CHAPEL, on MONDAY, the 16th inst., at 8 o'clock P. M.

Citizens generally are cordially invited to attend.
By order of JAMES BROWN, President.

A PUBLIC MEETING WILL BE HELD at the Cooper Union, on MONDAY, May 16, at 1 o'clock P. M.

The object of the meeting is to call the attention of women to the injury inflicted upon the country in this crisis by the extravagant purchase of imported luxuries, such as silks, satins, velvets, jewelry, feathers, mirrors, and objects of vertu, and to suggest to their consideration the propriety of abstaining from such articles of foreign manufacture until the present unhappy crisis shall have passed.

It is not proposed to recommend the abandonment of any articles necessary even for comfort, but simply that the above-named luxuries, whose import creates the necessity of sending enormous amounts of gold out of the country, should, for the present, cease to be matters of daily use and purchase; and thus the gold should be retained at home, to strengthen our own Government. Elsewhere this movement has been already suggested. Women, who have devoted themselves to the service of their country's defenders, have paused in the midst of labor and suffering to ask: "Is there nothing more to be done?" and they have been taught that a mightier help than any they have yet given may be rendered by simple self-denial in outward adorning. Can a right-thinking, patriotic woman hesitate to make so paltry a sacrifice?

The Executive Committee of the Metropolitan Fair have been urged to take the initiative in this movement, and being fully persuaded of its utility and anxious to forward it by every means in their power, they call upon the women of New-York to show their patriotism by going to this meeting, listening to the statistics which will there be given, and learning what they are doing by yielding to the extravagance of the times, and their duty in regard to it.

Several speeches will be made, and at the close of the meeting an opportunity will be given to all who are willing to join in this movement to enroll their names.

WOMEN'S PATRIOTIC ASSOCIATION FOR DIMINISHING THE USE OF IMPORTED LUXURIES.—We wish to call the attention of our countrywomen to a notice in another column from the Ladies of the Metropolitan Fair, calling a public meeting at the Cooper Union, TO-MORROW, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the subject mentioned above. The meeting will be addressed by Dr. F. Vinton, Prof. Hitchcock, James T. Brady, Esq., Wm. E. Dodge, Esq., and other distinguished citizens. It is hoped that every woman, desirous of aiding her country at this time of trial, will attend, and give the subject her earnest consideration.

NOTICE.—A MEETING OF BUTCHERS, CHANDLERS, tallow and grease melters, provision packers, and every man interested in the above trades within the City limits, will be held on MONDAY EVENING next, at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of forming a Citizens' Protective Union, and also to take into consideration the extraordinary and arbitrary course of the City Inspector and other officials, touching the above trades.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

BRADBURY'S

GOLD MEDAL
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTES,
after thorough and repeated tests by GOTTSCHALK, MASON, MILLS, SANDERSON, FRADEL, MORGAN, HELLER, TIMM, PATTERSON, and many others of the most competent judges, are pronounced "superior in power, purity, richness and quality of tone and thoroughness of workmanship." See their letter in my last circular. Seven First Premiums, including two Gold Medals, were received by Mr. Bradbury within four weeks, at the State fairs; and at the American Institute of 1863, "for the BEST PIANO-FORTE, A GOLD MEDAL." Warerooms No. 427 Broome-st., one block east of Broadway.
WM. B. BRADBURY.

STEINWAY & SONS'

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 71 and 73 East 14th-st., between Union-square and Irving-place, New-York.

HAINES BROTHERS,

PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURERS.
Warerooms No. 758 Broadway.
PIANOS TO LET AND FOR SALE
ON INSTALLMENTS.

UNITED PIANO-FORTE MAKERS,

OFFER THEIR LARGE AND SPLENDID PIANOS
AT LOWER PRICES
THAN ANY OTHER FIRST-CLASS HOUSE.
Every instrument guaranteed for five years.
PIANOS TO RENT.

HAZLETON BROTHERS,

OVERSTRUNG GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURERS,
No. 99 Prince-st., a few doors west of Broadway, N. Y.

These Pianos have always received the first premium wherever they have been exhibited. A written guarantee for five years accompanies each piano. These instruments will be sold at prices to suit the times.

RAVEN & BACON,

Piano-Forte Manufacturers, Wareroom, No. 135 Grand-st., near Broadway. A full assortment of our well known PIANOS constantly on hand, warranted in every respect. Purchasers will do well to examine our stock and prices before making their selections.

MASON & HAMLIN'S CABINET ORGANS, FOR FAMILIES, CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS—Recognized by the musical profession as greatly superior to Harmoniums, Melodeons and all other small organs. [See our illustrated catalogue for explicit testimony to their superiority, from a majority of the most eminent organists in America.] Prices, $85 to $500 each.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.—The great reputation which our Cabinet Organs have obtained, and the extensive demand for them, have induced dealers to advertise, in some cases, quite different instruments as Cabinet Organs, and in others to represent to purchasers that Harmoniums and other reed organs are the same thing. This is not true. The excellences of our Cabinet Organs, which have given them their high reputation, are the result not merely of the superiority of their workmanship, but also, in large measure, of essential differences in construction, which, being patented, cannot be imitated by other makers. From these arise their better quality and volume of tone and unrivaled capacity for expression. Warerooms in New-York, No. 7 Mercer-st.
MASON BROTHERS.

NEW VOCAL MUSIC.—"FOR THE DEAR OLD Flag I Die," "Was My Brother in the Battle?" "Bury Me in the Morning, Mother," "Wilt Thou be True?" "I will be True to Thee," "Merry Little Birds Are We," "Oh! Why am I so Happy?" "The Little Ballad Girl," "When Old Friends Were Here," and "She was all the World to Me."—FOSTER. "Home is Home," "I Hear Sweet Voices Singing," and "Hymn of the Nation."—THOMAS. "Sweet Little Nell," "Dying Drummer," "Weep no More for Lilly," "Katy Did and Katy Didn't," "This Hand Never Struck Me, Mother," "Don't Thou Ever Think of Me, Love?" "Little Joe the Contraband," "New Emancipation Song," and "The Angels are Hovering Near."—PARKHURST. "Dear One I Think of Thee," "The Rose of Clifton Dale," and "The Flowers Bloom in Linden Vale."—LAURENCE. "Christ Will Care for Mother Now."—WESTON. All of which are recommended. Price 30 cents each. Mailed free.
HORACE WATERS,
No. 481 Broadway, Publisher.

100 NEW AND SECOND-HAND PIANOS, melodeons, Alexandre and cabinet organs to let, and rent allowed if purchased. Monthly payments received for the same. Second-hand pianos at great bargains for cash; price from $60 to $200. New seven-octave pianos, at $225, $250, $275, $300, and up to $700. One seven-octave second-hand grand piano, price $700 new, will be sold for $300, or rented for $10 per month. 10,000 sheets of music, a little soiled, at 1½ cents per page. Cash paid for second-hand pianos. HORACE WATERS, No. 481 Broadway.

PIRSSON'S PIANO-FORTES.—JAS. PIRSSON respectfully informs the public that he has reëstablished himself in the piano-forte business and invites attention to a fine stock of pianos at his warerooms No. 478 Broadway, near Broome-st.

J. F. REICHENBACH, PIANO FORTE TUNER and repairer, No. 15 West Houston-st., near Broadway, New-York. New and second-hand pianos for sale and to let.

BOARDMAN, GRAY & CO.'S PIANO-FORTE depot has been removed from No. 726 to No. 748 Broadway.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, HARMONIUMS.—J. M. PELTON, No. 841 Broadway, N. Y. Peloubet's superior Harmoniums, $100 and $125; with pedals, $200 to $500. Instruments to let, or sold on installments.

MARBLE MANTELS.—THE BEST PLACE IN the City to purchase cheap and well-finished mantels is at A. KLABER'S Mantel Manufactory, No. 109 East 8th-st., near 3d-av., New-York. Cut this out.

GEN. SHERMAN'S ARMY.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE

A BATTLE GOING ON SATURDAY.

The Advantages on Our Side.

Details of Operations Up to Thursday.

How Johnston Was Forced Out of His Position.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, May 15.

Official advices have been received here to the effect that SHERMAN was yesterday heavily engaged in fighting with JOHNSTON, but no decided result had been reached, though the advantages were decidedly on our side.

PARTICULARS VIA CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Sunday, May 15.

The Commercial has details of news from SHERMAN's army up to Thursday afternoon. The enemy's position was held by the corps of HOWARD, SCHOFIELD, PALMER and HOOKER, and severe skirmishing had occurred for some days, resulting in a loss to us of about eight hundred killed and wounded, the greater number being slightly wounded. The loss fell chiefly upon GEARY's division of HOOKER's corps, and WOOD's division of PALMER's corps. It became fully developed that Dalton was almost if not altogether impregnable to a front attack. The flanking movement by MCPHERSON was admirably conceived and executed, and secured a vital point at Snake Gap, opening upon Resaca, fifteen miles in the rear of Dalton.

No sooner was this done than SHERMAN shifted the main body of his troops to the right, following MCPHERSON. JOHNSTON had no alternative but to take flight from his stronghold on the mountain.

KILPATRICK, at the head of a division of cavalry, reached JOHNSTON's rear, and destroyed the railroad a few miles south of Resaca Sunday night.

JOHNSTON's army is believed to be 60.000 strong, including some 15,000 militia. JOHN MORGAN, the celebrated rebel raider, is commanding a brigade of infantry.

SHERMAN's army is in magnificent fighting trim, and has absolute confidence of making a triumphant march through Georgia or wherever else their leaders may direct.

FORREST is reported to have crossed the Tennessee River, to make a raid on SHERMAN's rear, and there is note of preparation for him along the railroads south of the Nashville. It is believed he may be well cared for.

BRIG.-GEN. JAMES C. RICE.

The Funeral Services at Dr. Adams' Church Yesterday.

The funeral services over the remains of Brig.-Gen. JAMES C. RICE took place yesterday, at the church of Rev. Dr. ADAMS (Madison-avenue.)

Long before the arrival of the cortège, the church was filled to overflowing. At 3½ o'clock the remains encoffined, draped in the national flag, and decorated with wreaths, bearing on it the gloves, hat and sword of the deceased hero, was borne in, escorted by several distinguished officers, among whom were Major-Gen. DIX and Brig.-Gen. HAYS. During its passage up the broad aisle, an appropriate requiem was performed by the organ and choir.

After the reading of the Scriptures by the Rev. Mr. PRENTISS, the Rev. Dr. ADAMS pronounced a touching eulogium over the remains of his friend and fellow-laborer.

This, said he, is a scene solemn and sublime beyond all speech. Solemn and sublime because we bend over the bier of a true Christian, a patriot and a soldier, who died in the discharge of his duty, at the front and at the head of his column, full of faith in his Redeemer and the cause of his country.

Six years since, in this very church, the hero lying here confessed Christ, and here partook of the Communion.

Eighteen months since he stood before this altar and was married, going forth with only a sky of blue and gold; upon that identical spot he lies now, on his way to the grave.

The circumstances attending his death are eloquent; the self-sacrifice, his earnestness in the cause of God and his country, all are eloquent. Who would not be in that coffin, covered with the emblem of our nationality, a true patriot and Christian, than be walking alive a supporter of this wicked and outrageous rebellion against the best Government in the world.

Dr. ADAMS then proceeded to a personal sketch of Gen. RICE, reciting feelingly his efforts in our mission schools and in the church, relating also his connection with the Garibaldi Guard, his rapid rise, without political or family influence, to a Brigadier-Generalship. He dwelt feelingly upon his efforts to improve the condition of his command, both spiritually and temporally, his orders against gambling and camp vices.

He read a letter to an evening paper, of this City, descriptive of the General's camp life, giving a life-like portrait of the Christian and soldier in camp.

In answer to the soldier's question, "Shall we be forgotten?" he would answer, "No! your children and your children's children shall say proudly, 'Our ancestors were soldiers in the great war.' If you fall, ever-ready pens shall write down your deeds, and as the historic muse marches down the avenue of time, her scroll shall curtain all your names."

He read a personal letter from the General, written on the eve of the late battles, and an order issued on the 9th by him, congratulating his men on their bravery and good conduct and their reputation, and praying them to trust in God. It was not necessary to speak of the conduct of the hero in the face of the enemy—always riding before his column. Of 1,800 men in his command there remained at the close of the action in which he lost his life but 800 men.

He described the General's reception of his wife's letter on Tuesday, which was scarcely read when the order to advance was received; his gallant advance at the head of his brigade. After his wound the Commanding General passing dismounted and expressed the hope that the wound would prove but slight.

The reverend gentleman's touching description of the scene at the deathbed of the brave General, drew tears from a great majority of the assemblage.

The hero loved God and his country, and his country because he loved his God. The glory nurtured in religion, honor and immortality is the true glory; great is the man who dies in it, and he believed that he, lying here, died in it. Come death by the earthquake's shock, by the storm at sea, by consumption's long-continued pain, it is terrible; but the soldier's death was a glorious death—a sacrifice to freedom. Let us on this day, and in this presence, learn self sacrifice.

* * * * * *

After an impressive prayer by Rev. Dr. HITCHCOCK, the assemblage were permitted to view the remains of the heroic General. The body will be taken to Worthington, Mass., to-day, for interment.

OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

The Conference—Parliament in a Delicate Situation—Does an Armistice Admit a Blockade?—The American Question—Peace Movements—Earl Russell and His Assailants—Confederate Stock—British Transit Route in Nicaragua—The Tercentenary—Garibaldi Indignation Meeting—Free Speech in England—"Manhattan's" Novel—"Peculiar."

LONDON, Saturday, April 30, 1864.

The conference is popularly supposed to be in session, but nothing is heard about it. I saw, indeed a paragraph about it from Berlin, in a French lithographed news letter, but it was only an assurance that the interests of Prussia will not be sacrificed. Of course the first question is that of an armistice. If the fighting is to go on, what is the use of talking? But will Denmark consent to an armistice? She has lost about all she can by the war, and may now wish to fight on, in the hope of making something by it. If the armistice restored the statu quo ante bellum, it would do very well, but not with the uti posidetis.

While this matter is pending there can be no discussion in Parliament about the affairs of Denmark, or, perhaps, of Europe. It would be indelicate. So they have been talking about New-Zealand, China, the Tuscaloosa at the Cape of Good Hope, the rams, and there is some prospect of a debate on the war in America. But the conference saves the ministry. Mr. DISRAELI may retire to Bucks, cultivate literature and cabbages, and meditate on the coming peerage, when he will take the title of Viscount Coringsby or Sidonia; Lord R. CECIL may sail away in his yacht to the cool fiords of the coast of Norway. There is no chance for even a decent fight while this precious conference is on the carpet. The only news we have of its proceedings comes from the Continent. The London papers are mum as mice. It is now said that all the Representatives were ready for the armistice—with the greatest possible pleasure—but should it extend to the blockade. On that point they required instructions, and adjourned over a few days, while messages could be sent to Berlin and Vienna, to see if a blockade was an armistice. The entente cordiale between France and England is asserted and denied. Italy demands that her case be brought before the conference, or that the conference become a Congress, which, it may, perhaps, adjourning to Paris. GARIBALDI has gone, leaving a farewell address, written, I should say, by his "friend and teacher," MAZZINI. In it he eulogises England as the greatest friend of Italian unity, and appeals to this great, free country against Austria at Venice and France at Rome. Remember just now, that almost the last visit GARIBALDI received in England was from the Prince of Wales. The Daily Advertiser says: "This is a noble deed on the part of the young Prince, for such a visit must give mortal offence, not only to LOUIS NAPOLEON, but to Austria and the Continental Powers in general. It will have a great moral effect. It leaves nothing more to be desired in connection with GARIBALDI's visit to this country."

As the champion of oppressed nationalities, GARIBALDI has offered his services to the Hungarians, Poles, Danes, and finally, just before he left London, he made a visit to the American consul, and said he should be happy to offer his sword to the cause of the Union, only, unfortunately for him, it did not need his services.

As soon as the Danish question is settled, the American question will come before Parliament in a more serious shape than ever. On Thursday night here was a five hours' debate in the House on the case of the Tuscaloosa, with which the British Government played fast and loose in so queer a fashion at the Cape of Good Hope—where, by the way, the Alabama has just returned to refit, and been received with acclamations, after burning nine large United States merchantmen. The new move will be one for peace, based on memorials sent from every part of the kingdom to both houses of Parliament. These petitions are instigated by a "Society for Promoting the Cessation of Hostilities in America," which has for its president Rear-Admiral ANSON. This society, which is acting chiefly through the clergy of the Established Church, urges "that the subjugation or extermination of six millions of people is an alternative unparalleled in Christian times," and "that it is the duty of every Christian throughout the world to use his influence against the further prosecution of such a war," &c. Pamphlets, tracts and circulars are distributed in editions of ten or twenty thousand copies.

The danger from such movements is not that Earl RUSSELL will be frightened from his position of "friendly neutrality," but that the Government itself may be overthrown; and as the Opposition is becoming every day more committed to the Southern cause, there is reason to apprehend that when it comes into power it will feel obliged to take a course quite different from the one it now condemns. I have reason to know that the friends of the South, in and out of Parliament, are waiting with impatience for the time to come when they can bring this question to an issue. The position is favorable to the North as long as the present Government can maintain its place, for the very attacks of the Opposition make the ministers, law officers of the crown, and to a certain extent, the Government press, partisans of the North. The danger is that they will yield in deference to public opinion, or be defeated. Fortunately, PALMERSTON and RUSSELL are too fond of power to be easily driven out, and RUSSELL is stubborn enough to have his own way as long as there is such a possibility.

In the Tuscaloosa case, in the House of Lords, Lord CHELMSFORD accused Earl RUSSELL of truckling to the Federals, and said they had no right to seize the vessel, and ought to make an apology and compensation to the Confederate Government; which, as Earl RUSSELL has driven Mr. MASON from England, and has not even a consul in the dominions of DAVIS, would not be an easy matter to manage. The English Government wishes to send commercial agents to the South, as appointing consuls would be equivalent to recognition, and neither ships nor guns are ready for that, but Mr. DAVIS, I understand, objects to any half-way proceedings.

Last night Earl DERBY made a speech of two hours in the Lords, on the case of the rams, making the most, of course, of the "so-styled" Mallory report, which he said had been furnished to the Government in an extract from the NEW-YORK DAILY TIMES, which was well known to be the organ of Mr. SEWARD—making a strong insinuation that Mr. SEWARD had himself concocted the document, or caused it to be concocted, and reading an extract from the Philadelphia Age, to support, not his charge, but insinuation. But as he denounced the forgery as a clumsy one, which had neither the proper form nor the matter of such documents, he could hardly suppose it to have been the work of Mr. SEWARD, though it appears to have been sufficiently well done to deceive both him and Mr. ADAMS. These continued attacks in Lords and Commons on the American question are, I think, only the skirmishings which precede a general engagement. In his defence, last night, Earl RUSSELL fell back upon the Slavery question, and said England should preserve a careful neutrality because four millions of negroes might be made free in consequence.

Confederate stock, now, while Lieut.-Gen. GRANT is marching on Richmond, and "the boldest holds his breath for a time," has gone up to 62. Here is a chance for speculation. The news of a week or two may send it up 20 per cent. higher, or knock it down to 25, where it was a few months ago. If Gen. LEE meets with a reverse, Lombard-street will drop it. As to the Confederates here, they are full of confidence, and sanguine of success. They are prepared for some defeats and disasters, but expect to hold their own, and believe that the North will cave, or that France will recognize in behalf of Mexico, and they feel sure that England will be eager enough to join in such a recognition. I understand that the general financial agent of the Richmond "so-called" Government is here, awaiting the proper moment to offer another loan.

I have not noticed in any American paper the fact that the English Government is taking the present opportunity to get a foothold, and right of transit, in Nicaragua. Capt. PYM, of the Royal Navy, author of The Gate of the Pacific, arrived here on Thursday, with the news that he had secured a highly important concession from the Nicaraguan Government of a railway across the Isthmus, for which the capital is ready, so that the Panama Company will soon have a formidable opposition. There is no mistake about this, and it is probably the first step toward establishing a position which will be, in some degree, a set off to that of France in Mexico. England wants a good transit route to British Columbia and New-Zealand, and she wants also a cotton region in Central America, nearer and better than India. Capt. PYM is confident that he has found these in Nicaragua. He is a man of great energy, and has the full confidence of the Government.

When I had finished my letter last Saturday, I marched straight as the omnibus route would take me to Primrose Hill, where the great tragedian, Mr. PHELPS, not having been invited to play "Hamlet" at Stratford-on-Avon, was planting, or making believe plant, an oak in honor of SHAKESPEARE. It was a beautiful day, worthy of New-York or Naples. There was a great crowd, with negro minstrels, cheap Johns, orange peddlers, and all the rif-raff that gathers in a crowd in London. A space of about two acres was fenced off, and guarded by a hundred policemen. Entrance sixpence, and not crowded. Twenty outside to one in. In the centre of this was a smaller and more select and still less crowded space, admission one shilling. Here the speeches were made—inaudible to the second-class circle. The great third-class outer mob could neither see nor hear, but they had the negro minstrels. A lady sprinkled the sacred tree with some water from the river Avon. Somebody spouted an ode, written for the occasion, by Miss ELIZA COOK. A military and a police band—the latter all policemen except the leader—played some very good music, and the procession reformed and marched off.

I wish you could have seen that procession! It was what the working men of London had managed to do in honor of SHAKESPEARE on this tercentenary celebration. Two brassy bands, two small charity schools, say thirty boys and as many girls, as forlorn as all such schools look; four or five befeathered Forresters with ostrich plumes and short pipes, looking like the fag end of a fancy dress ball going home by daylight; some awkward squads of some kinds of lodges, scarcely enough to keep their banners in countenance—two or three hundred in all, making a more wretched show than the supernumeraries of the smallest theatre—straggled off Primrose Hill, beating and blowing around the glorious Regent's Park. The charity children in their ugly uniforms were the best, or least bad of the absurd show. They had banners with the names of SHAKESPEARE's plays. A red-headed, cross-eyed little parish bantling carried the banner of "Love's Labor Lost," while a cadaverous little fellow brought up the rear, eating an orange, and holding aloft the appropriate device of "Much Ado about Nothing."

When the Shakespeareans had gone about their next business, the Garibaldi Indignation Committee, took possession of the summit of the hill, where their meeting was organized by the Chairman, standing on a bench. England is a free country, you know. GARIBALDI himself has told us so. In Paris, they were not allowed to have a SHAKESPEARE celebration, but in London it is different. True, the Government had sent away GARIBALDI for reasons of State, but the people had met to protest against it. Free speech is an Englishman's birthright, and free speech on the top of Primrose Hill, if anywhere, could be exercised without giving annoyance, or receiving molestation.

While I was inhaling this free air of England, admiring its glorious institutions, and trying to hear what the chairman of the meeting was driving at. "tramp, tramp," came the march of a double file of policemen within a yard of my nose. They went into the crowd like a wedge, and down came the Chairman of the Garibaldi Meeting, and in spite of groans and hisses, and strong symptoms of a row, in five minutes it had scattered in every direction. PALMERSTON had not only banished GARIBALDI, but scattered his friends. The committee sneaked off to a tavern, and comforted themselves by passing a brace of resolutions, to the tune of—

"Britons Never, Never, Never will be Slaves," &c.

The truth is that freedom of speech in England means the liberty to say what the Government is willing you should say, and when and where; and if a man cannot express his opinion of the Government on the top of Primson Hill, where, I should like to know, can he express it? Every newspaper in London, I believe, has commented freely on the prohibition of the Shakespearean dinner at Paris. They have very little to say about the forcible breaking up of a Garibaldi meeting in London. Of the two I should say the prohibition beforehand was the less annoying, but, as our great Yankee poet says:

> "Each of them is bad enough,
> To make a fellow cuss."

Some of the persons present cussed a little; some discussed a little. For my part, I was disgusted, and left by the underground railroad, which, I beg to say, is a great institution, and no mistake at all. There are long trains of cars, first class sumptuous, second class comfortable, third class decent enough, all brilliantly lighted with gas, cheaper than the omnibuses, and running in a third of the time, or less. There is no lack of ventilation, and the trains are regulated by telegraph. An underground railway from the Battery to Central Park, with five or six intermediate stations, would be cool in Summer, warm in Winter, a good thing for the public, and, I should think, a good investment.

The Garibaldi business is not over. Next Saturday the workmen mean to make another trial of a meeting on Primrose Hill, defy the police to disperse it by force, and then bring an action against the authorities, to ascertain whether there is or is not the right to hold meetings to protest against the action to the Government. They will find out in three or four years, if they are lucky.

I cut from yesterday's Standard the following: "New novel by MANHATTAN. This day at all the libraries, in three vols., post 8vo. Marion. A novel. By MANHATTAN. London: SAUNDERS, OTLEY & Co."

This work, which I have not yet had time to read, was published in New-York, if I mistake not, under the queer title of Vigor, if it is said, with some slight mutilations and adaptations to English taste, to have been rushed out by three of the largest printing offices in London, one volume to each, more rapidly than any similar work was ever printed in this slow and sure country. If it meets with the success anticipated by the sanguine publishers, the ingenious author may expect a check for his portion of the proceeds that, at the present rates of exchange, ought to enable him to retire with a modest competence to the sylvan retreats of Coney Island or Communipaw. Mr. EPES SARGEANT's Peculiar has also been republished here, edited by WM. HOWITT, but I suspect its success has not been as great as anticipated. The tide, just now, runs in another direction. The English have been very fond of the colored man and brother, but they do not like the universal Yankee nation. Sympathy and interest are pulling different ways. The Confederates are popular, and will be, as long as there is a chance of their success. The right of might, after all, is the only right which seems to win any permanent regard. England worships power, and I am not certain that in this respect she is at all peculiar.

LATEST FROM THE ARMY

A Savage Fight on Saturday Evening.

The Rebels Repulsed and a Battery Captured.

Fresh Troops Arriving to Aid Grant.

Lee's Army on Quarter Rations, but Massed for More Fighting.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES

WASHINGTON, Sunday, May 15—Midnight.

The latest intelligence received here from the front, through unofficial sources, is up to yesterday, at 1 o'clock. On Saturday evening, just before dusk, the rebels made an attack on the position occupied by the Fifth Corps, principally with artillery, but were finally driven back with severe loss, the cannonading was furious for several hours. We lost a number of valuable officers and from two to three hundred men killed and wounded. After the repulse of the rebels one of the divisions of the Fifth Corps made a charge upon the enemy's position, and it is reported captured a rebel battery and a number of prisoners. On Saturday night LEE's forces were believed to be in line of battle about three miles beyond Spottsylvania Court-house, in a southwesterly direction. His sharpshooters were within half a mile south of town, which was neutral ground. Several important charges have been made. In the positions of our several corps, it would be improper to state what they are, suffice it to say that Gen. GRANT will bring to bear, in the next attack on the rebel position, superior forces on all sides. Fresh troops are arriving. A general assault was to have been made on the enemy's right wing on Saturday morning, but owing to the wretched condition of the roads, which had been rendered almost impassable by the storm, a portion of our army failed to get into position in time, and the attack had to be abandoned in consequence.

My informant says that the impression prevailed at headquarters that there would be hard fighting yet this side of North Anna River. LEE has his forces massed, and will give us battle again as soon as we advance. His army, according to the statements of prisoners captured yesterday, is on quarter rations, and without hope of receiving any from Richmond or Lynchburgh.

Since the fight on Thursday we have captured about two thousand more prisoners, making our total captures in the neighborhood of 12,000.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sunday, May 15, 1864.

Gen. SHERIDAN arrived at the James River yesterday afternoon.

He had heavy fights in which he was very successful. He got inside of the rebel works around Richmond, and could have taken the city, but was ignorant of Gen. BUTLER's position. Our men could see the gaslights in Richmond. They took 300 prisoners.

Gen. SHERIDAN reports J. E. B. STUART mortally wounded.

Capt. HOWE, Assistant Adjutant General of the rebel Gen. RUGGLES' staff, and 17 officers and 300 rebel prisoners, have arrived from Belle Plain in charge of Capt. HOOD, of the Eighteenth Veteran Corps, en route to Fort Delaware. Among them are Maj.-Gen. Johnson; Brig.-Gen. Geo. H. Stuaat; Col. Pebbles, of Georgia; Col. Davidson, of New-Orleans; Col. Hardeman, of Georgia; Col. Hanell, of North Carolina; Col. Fitzgerald, of Virginia; Col. Parsley, of North Carolina; Col. Davant, of Georgia; Major Carson, of Georgia; Major Enett, of North Carolina; Major Wilson, of Louisiana; Major Warnum, of Louisiana; Col. Vandervender, of Virginia; Col. Cobb, of Virginia; Col. Haynes, of Virginia; Major Nash, of Georgia; Major Perkins, of Virginia, and Major Anderson, of Virginia.

The steamer John Tucker has arrived with 300 recaptured Union prisoners.

Two hundred wounded, from Gen. SHERIDAN's command, have arrived, and left for Baltimore.

SHERIDAN destroyed a million rations, other stores, rolling stock, &c. to the amount of ten millions of dollars in value.

There is no news from Gen. BUTLER.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., NEW-YORK, Oct. 1, 1863.

Dr. Von Eisenberg:

DEAR SIR: Without recapitulating the numerous benefits I have received through your wonderful cure of the deafness I have labored under many years, the blessings I enjoy will convince the most skeptical.

I have tried many aurists, in Europe and America, without success. I was still deaf as a post.

Three years ago I entered your office, underwent one operation, hoping, yet doubting, I should receive any relief, but was agreeably disappointed in finding the genius of your profession.

The innate skill you possess cured my deafness in one almost painless operation.

The joy I experienced was indescribable; 'twas a new life to me.

My hearing is perfect to this day.

I strongly advise all who are suffering under a difficulty of hearing, or total deafness, to consult you immediately, as I also personally recommend all who apply to me. The numerous calls trespass on my time and patience, yet, remembering my own long, weary affliction causes me to pity them.

This is not written to advertise your well-known, unrivaled reputation—that would be peurile; but as a measure of precaution, to induce all to call on you at once, without troubling me; yet I do not refuse to see any one who comes to me. This is the only way I can show my gratitude.

I also call the attention of those who are suffering from Catarrh, which disease I have labored under one year or more.

I experienced difficulty in breathing, langour, heaviness over the eyes, a sense of tightness on the brain, and copious expectorations of a hard and viscid nature. Accompanying this is a "polypus," quite filling the right nostril. On the 25th ult. you operated on both, killing the polypus, which is gradually passing away, and giving me great relief from the Catarrh. One more operation will effectually cure.

This testimonial brings with it my unalloyed and grateful thanks, with but a poor delineation of your wondrous skill as an Aurist.

I am, Sir, yours very gratefully,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

RECENT TESTIMONIALS.

CATARRH CURED.
FROM REV. FRED. S. JEWELL,
PROFESSOR OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ALBANY, N. Y.

This may certify that I have been, since 1844, subject to violent periodical attacks of catarrh, marked by a highly inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the cavities of the head, producing a most distressing species of headache, for days at a time, wholly incapacitating me from business, and, during the paroxysms, confining me to the bed. In some instances the inflammation has extended to the teeth, occasioning toothache; to the throat, producing hoarseness and partial loss of voice; and twice it has so affected the left eye as to confine me for a month or more to a darkened room. These attacks have been accompanied by strong febrile symptoms; by stoppages of the head, and in the first stages by watery discharges from the nose, and subsequently becoming acrid and yellow, and, toward the close of the attack, becoming bloody and purulent. I have tried medicines of almost every kind; external applications to the head, such as camphor, ginger, hot vinegar, snuffs of some half dozen kinds, and other catarrhal preparations, together with internal remedies, such as alteratives, cathartics and emetics. These have produced no change in the occurrence or character of the disease, and, in most cases with little or no temporary relief. I had come, at length, to believe the disease to be practically beyond either cure or material alleviation.

Under these circumstances, I was led, some five months ago, to make a trial of Dr. Lighthill's treatment. His method at once approved itself to my judgment as simple, philosophical, and likely to be effective. Notwithstanding the disadvantages under which he labored in dealing with a disease of such long standing, aggravated by nervous debility and dyspepsia, and constantly renewed by the accidents of my professional labor, I found the treatment reaching the disease as it had never been reached before, and producing such a modification and alleviation of its character as I had supposed impossible. I chronicle the result thus:

Although I have been situated several times so that I should formerly have believed a severe attack of my catarrh inevitable, I have escaped thus far; the symptoms of threatened attack have been very light, and have yielded to the remedies employed by Dr. Lighthill, without the need of recourse to the old hot fermentations and emetics, and the discharges from the head have returned to the original and natural condition. That I have been able to obtain so material a relief is to me a cause of gratitude. In that alone I am repaid for whatever the treatment may have cost me.

I make this statement unsolicited, as a means of acknowledging my obligations to Dr. Lighthill's method of treating catarrh, and with a view to aid any who may have suffered from that disease in forming a just opinion of its merits, and its probable utility in their own case.

FREDERICK S. JEWELL.
ALBANY, N. Y., March 14, 1864.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DEAFNESS.
From Rev. Joseph M. Clarke, Rector of St. James' Church.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 20, 1864.

I have been deaf in one ear ever since I was in College, some twenty years ago. By the skill of Dr. Lighthill, its hearing was entirely restored, so that now I hear alike with both ears, and I find that I can use my voice with much more ease and comfort than before.

JOSEPH M. CLARKE.

From the Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

Since I first publicly acknowledged the great benefits which I received from the skillful treatment of Dr. Lighthill, in regard to my hearing, letters of inquiry have incessantly poured upon me from all parts of the country, from parties desiring to learn the particulars of my case, and I am indeed surprised at the number of individuals who are affected similar to the manner in which I have been, and, therefore, feel it more and more a sacred duty which I owe to these sufferers, to direct them to a proper and reliable source to obtain the benefit they so much covet, and which so many afflicted ones have hitherto sought in vain, just as I had done previous to applying to Dr. Lighthill.

I had from infancy one very deaf ear, which always discharged more or less offensive matter, and was the source of the greatest annoyance and discomfort to me. Last year the other ear also became diseased, and both ears discharged a yellow matter, very profuse and highly offensive. My hearing became very much impaired, and the discharge produced the greatest debility of body and depression of spirits. I applied to my family physician and other practitioners, without deriving any benefit, and almost despaired of being restored to health, when, providentially, I applied to Dr. Lighthill. Under his treatment my ears began to improve at once, and continued to do so until, in a comparatively short time, both ears were healed, the discharge removed, and my hearing restored. At first I feared the cure would not be permanent, or that the stoppage of a discharge of so long standing might prove detrimental to my general health—a fear which I find a great many entertain in regard to the removal of discharge from the ear. My experience, however, has proved conclusively that my apprehensions were entirely groundless in both respects, for both ears are as well, and my hearing is as good at present, as the day I left off treatment, and the stoppage of discharge, instead of proving detrimental to my health, has given the highest elasticity and vigor to my body, and a flow of spirits not experienced for a long time previous.

I wish that the above might serve as a general answer to the interested, but should one or the other desire to apply to me personally, or by letter, I will cheerfully satisfy reasonable demands upon my time.

I avail myself of this opportunity of again publicly expressing my deeply-felt gratitude to Dr. Lighthill, whom I esteem as a gentleman and a man of science, in whom the highest confidence may be placed. JOHN NOTT.

References to parties of the highest respectability residing in the City, who have been cured of Deafness, Catarrh, &c., may be had on application.
